

Pod-tivity 01

	<h2>Approaches to using podcasting for teaching and learning</h2>
Purpose:	To familiarise you with pedagogical approaches to using Podcasting for teaching and learning activities, and to reflect on possible applications in your own teaching practice.
Task:	During the next 20 minutes. Please read the two case studies of approaches to using podcasting in higher education. Make a note of a particular teaching and learning challenge that you might be able to address through the use of podcasts. Also share your thoughts with your group members. And, be prepared to present your group's reflections to the whole workshop.
Response:	Take notes of each group's reflections and be ready to comment on how you might consider various approaches presented and to challenge the ideas presented.
