‘Air Power in the New Millennium’
Sir Brian Burridge

When: Wednesday 20th March 2013, 5.00pm
Where: Ken Edwards Building 1st floor, Lecture Theatre 1

This talk will examine the exercise of air power in recent decades, focusing on the development of precision weapons and the issues these raise in terms of targeting, effectiveness and human rights.

Sir Brian Burridge spent 39 years as a pilot in the Royal Air Force, and commanded the UK Joint contingent of 43,000 personnel in the 2003 Iraq War. Sir Brian has a first degree in Physics, an MBA from the Open University Business School where he holds an honorary doctorate, and was previously a Defence Fellow at King’s College London.
