Ways to fundraise for the University of Leicester

Sponsored events come in all shapes and sizes – from bake sales to marathons to skydives! You could take part in an event open to the public, such as a sponsored marathon, or break the mold with an event that is entirely your own. Whatever you decide to do, we want to support you from start to finish.

If you are taking part in a public fundraising event, you might want to consider:

• Setting a fundraising goal
• Social networking
• Nominating us as your company’s chosen charity
• Asking your company about Matched Giving

If you are organizing your own fundraising event, you might want to consider:

• Gathering all the materials you will need
• Making an event plan

We want to support you in your fundraising activities from start to finish. For more information, contact Rosemary, our Fundraising Support Officer.
