Welcome/Introduction

Dear Postgraduate,

First, I look forward to meeting you at the introduction, tour of the house and reception on Monday 28 September at Lamport Hall. There you will have an opportunity to meet one another, some of us, our hosts on the Lamport Hall team, and some of the other students associated with the Centre.

The Centre for the Study of the Country House [CSCH] developed from initial discussions between our host, Mr George Drye CEO of the Lamport Hall Preservation Trust, the then vice-chancellor, Sir Bob Burgess, and me in 2003. We are delighted to celebrate more than a decade of co-operation and collaboration: this MA course was the first ever to focus on the Country House and you are our eleventh cohort of students.

You will be offered free admission to the Annual Lamport Lecture, next spring. Further details will follow.

This virtual handbook will provide important information about the course and you should read it carefully: the course structure, module outlines, and reading lists, marking criteria, staff details, facts about the library and computing facilities, and more. Please read the handbook carefully; you will need to refer to it throughout your time on the course.

If you have any queries please contact Mrs Gemma Mayo, the programme administrator, [0116 252 2866] or me [0116 252 2840].

History of Art and Film will be your ‘home department’ and will supply you with a Personal Tutor.

With my best wishes for your studies this year.

Yours sincerely,

Phillip Lindley

Professor Phillip Lindley

Director of the MA Country House.
Induction

Induction at Lamport Hall, Northamptonshire, by invitation of the CEO, Mr George Drye, and the Trustees of the Lamport Hall Preservation Trust, Monday 28 September 2015.

Our schedule is this;

Monday 28 September:

4pm  Arrival of new students at Lamport Hall, tea and coffee followed by induction in print room.

[Returning students are welcome to attend, though you might prefer to meet us at six]

5pm  Tour of House

6pm  Drinks and canapés

A College Induction event is taking place on Wednesday 1 October. The first session will be held in the Attenborough University Film Theatre at 11.00am to 1.00pm and this session will include students from the School of English, the School of Modern Languages and the Department of the History of Art and Film. From 5.00pm onwards there will be a reception in the Belvoir City Annexe in the Charles Wilson building and drinks and light refreshments will be provided.

For International Students

International students are encouraged to attend the University's International Student Welcome Programme: http://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/ssds/welfare/international-student-support/iswp/welcome prior to the beginning of term. International Student Support also provides on-going support and advice for International students (http://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/ssds/welfare/international-student-support).

Students who are non-native English speakers and/or who are not familiar with UK Higher Education are strongly advised to attend the English Language Teaching Unit's in-sessional programme Academic English for Postgraduates and Staff (http://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/eltu/insessional/esap). These classes are provided free of charge for postgraduates and are designed to develop students' English-language and study skills.

Please contact Mrs Gemma Mayo if you arrive late and miss the induction. She is based in Att 1514, E-mail hafma@le.ac.uk, Tel: 0116 252 2866

Department Details

A brief history of the Centre of the Study of the Country House may be found here: http://www2.le.ac.uk/departments/arthistory/research/countryhouse. The School is located in the Attenborough Tower, primarily on floor 17, and the School Office is Att 1514. Campus maps are available at: www.le.ac.uk/maps

Departmental Communications

Noticeboards containing information relevant to postgraduates are located on the 17th floor.

Staff pigeonholes are located on the fifteenth floor, in Att 1514.

Prof Phillip Lindley, Director of the MA Country House is available for consultation about matters academic and pastoral at the times advertised on the door of his room (Att 1610). In emergencies, course directors can be contacted at other times by email, in the first instance. In addition, all students are allocated a personal tutor, whom they are invited to consult about personal and academic difficulties met during the course.

For administrative matters, the School Office (Att 1514) is open Monday-Friday, 9.00am-5.00pm. The Programme Administrator is Mrs Gemma Mayo. E-mail hafma@le.ac.uk, Tel: 0116 252 2866.

Student Communications and Personal Details

The University keeps a record of your personal details such as your full name, addresses i.e. home address and term-time address, telephone numbers, personal email address and your emergency contact details. It is important to keep your details up to date as this will help you to receive information about your studies and exams and also ensure that official documents are provided to you with the correct name details.

You can check and update your details by logging-in to MyStudentRecord http://mystudentrecord.le.ac.uk using your University username and password. Click on the My Details tab and you will then be able to review and change your personal details.

It is important that you check your University email account frequently to ensure that you do not miss any important communication from the University.

Learn at Leicester

Whatever your subject or level of study, there are many, many different ways in which you can access academic advice and support. The Learn at Leicester webpage provides you with further details of this support, together with direct links to a wide range of resources and services to help you:

- Make the most of the Library
- Develop your IT skills
- Manage your own learning
- Improve your English language
- Get independent advice about your course
- Manage your student information

You can access all of this by visiting: www.le.ac.uk/learnatleicester
University Library

The Library is your gateway to high quality information relevant to your studies. Using it effectively contributes directly to your success.

The Library provides you with:

- access to a huge range of specialist information resources including a print collection of over 1 million items and a Digital Library of over 500,000 eBooks and 50,000 electronic journals which you can use from anywhere on the Web;
- help in finding and using information; online, face to face and by telephone;
- individual and group study space, including the Graduate School Reading Room exclusively for postgraduate students;
- PCs, netbooks and wireless networking for your laptop;
- services for distance learners and researchers.

The Library is a shared resource for all members of the University. Please respect it and observe the Library regulations available at www.le.ac.uk/library/about.

Student Learning Development

Studying for a degree is a stimulating, challenging and rewarding experience. In order to make the most of this experience, the University of Leicester provides a wide range of resources and services to support and enhance your academic development in areas such as essay-writing, critical thinking, independent learning and time-management. The Student Learning Development Team is here to help you develop the skills and abilities you need in order to succeed in your studies. To find out more about how we can help you develop your academic skills and abilities, visit our website: www.le.ac.uk/succeedinyourstudies.
Students’ Union Education Unit (ED)

Education help and advice is provided by the Students’ Union for all students.

If you would find it helpful to talk to someone outside of your department, we offer a confidential and impartial service to help and advise you about where to go and what to do. If you wish to come and talk to us about your personal circumstances or academic worries, for example, exams or putting together an academic appeal, we will provide a professional and friendly service.

You will find the Education Unit staff in the Students’ Union Building on the first floor within the West Wing. Opening hours are 10.00 am to 4.00 pm, online chat facilities are available (visit our website for further details), you can either pop in or book an appointment by contacting us on the details below:

Languages at Leicester

There are many benefits to learning a new language. Not only could you enhance your career prospects and broaden your cultural horizons, but studies show that you could also improve your literacy skills, boost your memory, increase your attention span, and even help to grow your brain!

Study with the Languages at Leicester Team on campus, and you will be taught by expert native tutors who are based within our School of Modern Languages. We offer 16 different languages including Arabic, British Sign Language, Chinese and Spanish to name just a few, six different levels of learning and two different course lengths, so you can study in a way that suits you. Classes take place during evenings and Wednesday afternoons, as well as intensive ‘fast track’ courses on Saturday mornings.

Find out more about Languages at Leicester, including fees and term dates at: www.le.ac.uk/ml/lal.

The successful completion of a Languages at Leicester course will appear on your Higher Education Achievement Report (HEAR) when you graduate. For further details about the HEAR, please visit: www.le.ac.uk/hear.

University Regulations

Senate Regulations (www.le.ac.uk/sas/regulations) contain rules and other important information about being an undergraduate or taught postgraduate student at the University of Leicester. The Regulations are part of the formal contract between you and the University; you will have confirmed when completing registration that you will comply with procedures defined in the University’s Regulations.

The Quick Guide to Student Responsibilities (www.le.ac.uk/sas/regulations/responsibilities) summarises some of your most important responsibilities as a student at Leicester, as defined in detail in the Regulations. These responsibilities relate to:

- attendance
- submission of work by set deadlines
- term time employment (full-time students – Home/EU and International)
- illness or other circumstances impacting upon studies
- maintaining your personal details
- the additional responsibilities of international students

Failure to adhere to student responsibilities can have serious consequences and may lead to the termination of your studies.

Student Responsibilities

The University expects its students to behave responsibly and with consideration to others at all times. The University’s expectations about student behaviour are described in:

- the Student Charter
- the Regulations governing Student Discipline
- the Student Code of Social Responsibility
- the Code of Practice governing Freedom of Speech
- the University’s regulatory statement concerning Harassment and Discrimination

These can be found at www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulations

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

Attendance and engagement with your course is an essential requirement for success in your studies. The University’s expectations about attendance are defined in Senate Regulation 4: governing student obligations (see www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation4). Full-time students must reside in Leicester, or within easy commuting distance of the city, for the duration of each semester. You should attend all lectures, seminars, practical sessions and other formal classes specified in your course timetable, unless you have been officially advised that attendance at a particular session is not compulsory or you have received formal approval for absence. You are also expected to undertake all assessments set for you.

The University operates a Student Attendance Monitoring procedure. Your attendance will be monitored throughout the academic year and if sessions are missed without an acceptable explanation being provided to your department then neglect of academic obligations procedures will be initiated. This may result in your course of study being terminated.

If you are an international student and your course is terminated this will be reported to UK Visas and Immigration (UKVI), in line with University sponsor obligations.
Neglect of Academic Obligations

You are expected to attend all learning and teaching events which are timetabled for you. These include lectures, tutorials or practical classes. You are also expected to submit work within the deadlines notified to you. Persistent failure to attend taught sessions and/or to submit work, without good cause, will be considered to be a neglect of academic obligations. Departmental procedures for dealing with neglect are set out within the University’s regulations (see http://www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulations ‘Neglect of academic obligations’). In the most serious of cases of neglect the University has the right to terminate a student’s course.

Examination Regulations

If your course involves any exams you must ensure that you are familiar with the University’s Examination Regulations (www.le.ac.uk/sas/assessments/examregs). These contain a variety of regulatory information and instructions relating to exams, including the rules governing:

- scheduling
- admittance
- student conduct
- permitted and prohibited items and clothing
- use of calculators and dictionaries
- absence due to illness
- cheating

You can also find information about exams in the Students’ Guide to Exams (www.le.ac.uk/sas/assessments/examsguide).

Programme and Module Specifications

View the programme and module specifications for your course via www.le.ac.uk/sas/courses/documentation

In the programme specification you will find a summary of the aims of your course of study and its learning outcomes, alongside details of its teaching and learning methods and means of assessment. The programme specification also identifies the core modules that make up the course and any choice of optional modules. Each module has its own specification that formally records that module’s aims, teaching and learning methods, assessment components and their percentage weighting. For information on normal and maximum periods of registration, please see Senate Regulation 2, paragraphs 2.20 to 2.29.

The MA degree can be taken in one of two formats; both include 60 credits of Core modules, but Model A has a 60 credit Dissertation [20,000 words] and 60 credits of Optional modules, whereas Model B has a longer Dissertation [90 credits and 30,000 words] and just one Optional module [30 credits]. Both models total 180 credits.

The Postgraduate Diploma follows Model A, but omits the Dissertation [total 120 credits].

The Postgraduate Certificate comprises one Core module (The Country House and History) and one Option [total 60 credits].

The Dissertation will be supervised according to its topic and a supervisor will be assigned on this basis. Dissertation topics may be developed from any element of the course or arrived at independently so long as they constitute examinable material for the degree. If in doubt, you should discuss this with the Course Director.

Full-time students take 2 Core modules in semester 1, and 2 Optional modules and 20,000 word dissertation (or 1 plus 30,000 word dissertation) in semester 2.

Part-time students in year 1 take 1 Core module in semester 1 and 1 Optional module in semester 2.

Part-time students in year 2 take 1 Core module in semester 1, and 1 Optional module and 20,000 word dissertation in semester 2 (or opt for 30,000 word Dissertation – Model B).

Teaching Timetable

You will be notified of the timetable during induction on Tuesday 29 September 2015. Any timetable changes will be sent to you by email; please check your University email account frequently.
Coursework Submission

You should make sure that you submit your assignments by their due date to avoid any marks being deducted for lateness. Penalties for late submission of coursework follow the University scheme defined in Regulations governing the assessment of taught programmes (see www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation7 or www.le.ac.uk/sas/assessments/late-submission).

The submission and assessment of work

Submitting Your Work

All assignments need to be submitted electronically to Turnitin by the assignment deadline. No hard copy is required.

Assignments will be marked electronically using GradeMark. When you are notified that feedback is available you must log on to Blackboard to view this. Feedback cannot be collected from the school office.

Turnitin software accepts the following file types: Word, Text, Postscript, PDF, HTML, and RTF.

The procedure is as follows:

1. Log on to Blackboard, and select the course title.
2. Click on Assignments on the left-hand side and click on the relevant coursework title (‘essay’).
3. You will automatically be directed to the turnitin.co.uk page. Click on the submit icon.
4. Fill in the required information (first name, last name, title of your assignment).
5. Click on the Browse button to find the piece of coursework on your computer. Click on the file and press the open button.
6. Click on the submit button (top right-hand corner).
7. You will be shown the contents of the file you have selected. If it is the correct file, answer the “Is this the paper you want to submit?” question by pressing the “yes, submit” button.
8. You will be directed to a new screen confirming the successful submission of your coursework with a digital receipt. You will also receive an e-mail receipt confirming your submission, and the exact time at which it was submitted.

Save a copy of your e-mail receipt: this is your proof that you submitted your essay on time.

Please be aware that Turnitin uses plagiarism detection software.

Change of Course/Module

Discuss your options with your personal tutor, or another appropriate member of staff in your department, if you are considering a change of course or module. Changes of course or module require approval by your department and the University’s Registry and will only be allowed in certain circumstances.

See www.le.ac.uk/sas/courses/transfercourse or www.le.ac.uk/sas/courses/transfermodule for details of the procedures involved and deadlines that apply.

Marking and Assessment Practices

Student anonymity will be preserved during the marking of all formal examinations. Summative coursework (i.e. coursework that contributes to your module mark or grade) will be marked anonymously unless there are sound educational reasons for not doing so, or the type of assessment makes marking impractical.

Feedback and the Return of Work from Staff

The Department complies with the University’s policy for the return of marked coursework (see www.le.ac.uk/sas/quality/student-feedback/return-of-marked-work for details of the full policy:

General principles:

- Feedback and provisional grading on coursework will be returned within 21 days of the submission date;
- In exceptional circumstances where this is not possible, you will be notified in advance of the expected return date and the reasons for the longer turn-round time and where possible staff will provide some interim feedback: for example in the form of generic feedback to the class regarding common errors and potential areas for improvement.

Progression and Classification of Awards

The University’s system for the classification of awards and the rules of progression are defined in the Regulations governing taught postgraduate programmes of study (www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation6). Alternatively, refer to the Student and Academic Services website for information about degree classification and progression: www.le.ac.uk/sas/assessments/pgt-progressionaward

Any specific progression requirements for your course are stated in its programme specification (see http://www.le.ac.uk/sas/courses/documentation)

Referencing and Academic Integrity

Principles of academic integrity apply to the work of everyone at the University, staff and students alike, and reflect the University’s commitment to maintaining the highest ethical and academic standards. A key part of this is acknowledging where and when, in the process of producing your own work, you have drawn on the work of others. In practice, this means that the ideas, data, information, quotations and illustrations you use in assignments, presentations, reports, research projects etc. must be credited to their original author(s). This process of crediting the work of others is achieved through referencing (see the section below on ‘Referencing styles’). Failure to do this properly is to risk committing plagiarism: the repetition or paraphrasing of someone else’s work without proper acknowledgement.
What we mean by ‘plagiarism’, ‘self-plagiarism’ and ‘collusion’

Plagiarism is used as a general term to describe taking and using another’s thoughts and writings and presenting them as if they are our own. Examples of forms of plagiarism include:

- the verbatim (word for word) copying of another’s work without appropriate and correctly presented acknowledgement;
- the close paraphrasing of another’s work by simply changing a few words or altering the order of presentation, with or without appropriate and correctly presented acknowledgement;
- unacknowledged quotation of phrases from another’s work;
- the presentation of another’s concept as one’s own;
- the reproduction of a student’s own work when it has been previously submitted and marked but is presented as original material (self-plagiarism).

Collusion is where work is prepared or produced with others but then submitted for assessment as if it were the product of individual effort. Unless specifically instructed otherwise, all work you submit for assessment should be your own and must not be work previously submitted for assessment either at Leicester or elsewhere. For more detailed information on how the university defines these practices, see also: www.le.ac.uk/sas/assessments/plagiarism

The University regards plagiarism and collusion as very serious offences and so they are subject to strict penalties. The penalties that departments are authorised to apply are defined in the Regulations governing student discipline (see www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation11 ‘Plagiarism and collusion: Departmental penalties for plagiarism and/or collusion).

Resources and advice to help you study with integrity and avoid committing plagiarism

Negotiating these various rules, regulations and conventions can sometimes be a challenge, especially if they are new or different from previous experiences of studying. Check the Student Learning Development website for guidance on how to manage your studies so that you meet the required standards of critical scholarship and academic integrity: www2.le.ac.uk/offices/ld/resources/study/plagiarism-tutorial

If you are in any doubt about what constitutes good practice, ask your personal/academic tutors for advice or make an appointment with Student Learning Development for individual advice. You can book an appointment online by visiting: www.le.ac.uk/succeedinyourstudies.

One of the most important practices in ensuring the academic integrity of your work is proper referencing. The following section contains details of how to ensure your work meets the specific referencing requirements for the discipline(s) you are studying.

Referencing style

You must use a consistent referencing style when referring to books and other publications that you have read for your coursework. Most academic departments have a specific referencing style which you are required to use. Please note that some of your modules may be taught by different departments. To find out which referencing style each department uses, and for information and help on each referencing style, please visit http://www.le.ac.uk/library/help/referencing

Requirements differ on how to arrange bibliographies (complete list of all reference and other sources at the end of your coursework) and whether references are included within the word count for your coursework – please refer to any separate guidance provided on these points.
Notification of Ill Health and Other Mitigating Circumstances

The University recognises that students may suffer from a sudden illness or other serious event or set of circumstances which adversely affects their ability to complete an assessment or the results they obtain for an assessment. In such cases the mitigating circumstances regulations and procedures may be applied. These regulations are designed to ensure the fair and consistent treatment of all students.

You must keep your department(s) informed at all times of any personal circumstances that may impact upon your ability to study or undertake assessments. Tell your department(s) about any such circumstances at the time they occur. You need to supply supporting documentation (e.g. a medical certificate) as soon as possible and no later than the deadline relevant to the assessment(s) affected. Normally, the deadline for submission of a mitigating circumstances claim will be no later than five working days after the assessment deadline to which it relates.

See www.le.ac.uk/sas/regulations/mitigation for full details of the mitigating circumstances regulations and procedures, including the University’s definition of a mitigating circumstance.

Personal Support for Students

Departmental Student Support Arrangements

From discussion of academic progress, to friendly advice on personal matters; personal tutors are there to provide support, advice and guidance on an individual level. Common topics for discussion may include course changes, study progress, module choices, exam results, career opportunities or more personal problems such as accommodation or financial difficulties. The Department’s personal tutor system operates in accordance with the Code of Practice on Personal Support for Students: www.le.ac.uk/sas/quality/personaltutor

AccessAbility Centre

The Centre offers a range of services to all students who have specific learning difficulties, such as dyslexia, disabilities or long-term conditions including mental health which have a substantial day to day impact on their studies. Staff offer one to one support, the co-ordination of alternative examination arrangements and assistance with applications for the Disabled Students’ Allowance. It is possible to be screened for specific learning difficulties and access to formal assessment is available. Students are means tested to see if they are eligible for assistance with the cost of formal assessments. The open access Centre acts as a resource base for students and staff and is a relaxed place for students to work. Its computers are equipped with specialised software for screen enlargement. Essay planning and speech output software is on the University network. The Centre has some specialised equipment (CCTV, enlarged keyboard, and chairs) and some for loan (chairs, writing slopes and digital recorders). Low-level photocopying and printing facilities are also available. The Centre welcomes self-referrals as well as referrals from academic staff.

Student Welfare Centre

The Student Welfare Centre offers wide ranging practical support, advice, and information for students.

Financial advice is offered, with information on budgeting and funding. Specialised staff can advocate over late loans and other financial issues. Students can apply for hardship grants and loans through the Service.

Information and guidance is available in relation to private rented accommodation.
For international students, the Student Welfare Service coordinates The International Welcome Week in September and January. Expert immigration advice is available and students are strongly advised to renew their visas through the scheme provided by Student Welfare. Specialised Officers also support students who experience financial or personal problems.

Health Care and Registering with a Doctor
Illness can affect any one of us at any time and for this reason the University strongly advises you to register with a doctor in Leicester. The Victoria Park Health Centre (www.victoriaparkhealthcentre.co.uk) has expertise in student health and has provided medical care to the University’s students for many years. The Health Centre is located conveniently close to the main-campus and registration is free.
If when you come to University you are already under the care of a ‘specialised team’, have a known medical condition including mental health or waiting for an appointment it is still advisable to register at the Victoria Park Health Centre. Soon after arrival, make an appointment to discuss with one of the doctors who will then be in a better position to communicate with the relevant doctors and help you to manage your condition to avoid any unnecessary disruption to your studies. Please take with you information from your current doctor or consultant which includes diagnosis, current management, including medication (provide a certified English translation if the original is not in English). This is essential for international students as some conditions may be managed differently in this country, particularly in relation to medication which may be licensed differently and may need changing to something which is available to prescribe in this country. If you take medication for your condition you must bring 12 weeks supply with you to ensure continuity until the registration process is complete.

More information about registering with a doctor and other health and well-being services can be found at: www2.le.ac.uk/students/info/new/postgrad/health

Feedback from Students

Student Feedback Questionnaires
Students are asked to complete a course questionnaire at the conclusion of the taught section of their course (at the end of the spring term or beginning of the summer term).

The School uses questionnaire feedback within the process of reviewing individual modules and the course as a whole.

Student Staff Committees
The Department of the History of Art & Film has a Student-Staff Committee which meets regularly through the year. Volunteers are sought at the beginning of each academic year for a course representative. Once a representative has been chosen we will contact you by e-mail with their contact details and you will be able to raise any issues. Minutes of each meeting will be e-mailed to all postgraduate students.

The University’s Code of Practice on the Work of Student-Staff Committees may be downloaded here: http://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/sas2/quality/codes/documents/sscommittees.pdf

Societies
The University of Leicester Student Union has lots of societies and groups that you may be interested in joining, for further information please see http://leicesterunion.com/groups.

Safety and Security
The School Safety Officer is Andrea Vear.

Emergency Numbers
To summon the fire brigade, police, or ambulance from an internal phone: dial 888
If there is no reply: dial 9 then 999
From an external phone / payphone: dial 999

Attenborough Building
The Attenborough Building is open from 8.00am to 6.00pm, Monday to Friday.
The fire alarm is tested once a week, usually on Thursday at 9.30am. If the alarm sounds at another time, please exit the building via the stairs. Do not collect personal belongings. Follow any instructions issued by the fire wardens. The assembly point is the area in front of the Mathematics Building.

Paternoster
In order to prevent the Paternoster from malfunctioning, students are asked to observe strictly the safety instructions posted in each car.

Personal Belongings

Your personal belongings are not covered by the University’s insurance. You are therefore advised to check whether your parents’ or family policies provide adequate protection. If not, private insurance arrangements should be made.

A lost property service operates from the Security Lodge, which is situated at the far end of the Fielding Johnson Building on Wyggeston Drive, University entrance No. 1.

Bicycles may be brought onto the main campus but must be placed in the cycle racks provided, and appropriate security measures taken to help to prevent theft and damage. For advice on preventing cycle theft and details of the University’s Coded Cycle Scheme visit: www.le.ac.uk/estates/facilities_&_services/security/CodedCycleScheme.html

Complaints and Academic Appeals Procedures

The University has robust systems in place governing the quality and standards of its degree programmes and your experience as a student here. We are confident that, like the vast majority of students here, you will enjoy and be satisfied with your course. In most instances your department will be able to resolve any issues that do occur but we recognise that this will not always be possible. For this reason, the University has official procedures that allow eligible cases to be formally reviewed.

Information about these procedures, including the relevant forms, can be found on the Student and Academic Services website: see www.le.ac.uk/sas/regulations/appeals-complaints. These pages should be read in conjunction with the University’s Regulations governing student appeals (www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation10) and Regulations governing student complaints (www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation12).

Tutors who contribute to the MA in The Country House: Art, History and Literature’

Phillip Lindley, MA, PhD (Cantab.), FSA, FRSA

Course Director

Dr. Phillip Lindley is the Founding Director of the Centre for the Study of the Country House and designed the MA programme many years ago. He has published on late-medieval country houses but his current research focusses on the monuments of the aristocracy, from the fifteenth to the eighteenth centuries. He has just completed work on Roubiliac’s monuments for the Duke and Duchess of Montagu at Warkton, near to their great Northamptonshire seat at Boughton. He is also interested in the early stages of the Gothic Revival and has a series of papers published or forthcoming on eighteenth- and early-nineteenth century revivalist draughtsmen and scholars. Currently, he supervises two PhD students working on country house topics, Miriam Cady, who has a departmental scholarship and is studying ruined country houses and their curation; and Megan Leyland, an AHRC-funded student, who won a Collaborative Doctoral Award, which is supported by our long-term partners, the Lamport Hall Preservation trust, and is working on female patrons of country house architecture in the nineteenth century.

Prof. James Chapman, MA (UEA), PhD (Lancaster)

Head of Department and Director of Film Studies

James Chapman joined the department in January 2006, having previously taught at The Open University. He has wide-ranging research interests in the history of British cinema, television and popular culture. His books include

Dr. Gillian White, PhD (Warwick)
Dr. Gillian White is interested in the country houses of the late Middle Ages and sixteenth century. She was formerly Curator / Collections Manager at Hardwick Hall and undertook research for her PhD on the nature and purpose of the original furnishings and decorations there. She is interested in inventories and their role in providing information about the layout, functions and appearances of houses at this period. She participated in the forthcoming critical edition of John Nichols’ The Progresses and Public Processions of Queen Elizabeth, being a section editor dealing with material relating to royal palaces and houses. She now operates as an independent scholar, contributing courses and day schools on the arts and architecture of the early modern period to Oxford University Department of Continuing Education and to other organisations.

Dr. Nigel Aston, BA (Durham), DPhil (Oxford), FRHistS
Reader in Early Modern History. Dr Aston’s research interests and activities centre on the history of religion in Western Europe during the late early modern era of c.1660-1790 (especially France and Britain). He focusses particularly on the presence of the clergy in politics and intellectual life. He has complementary interests in the French Revolution, the place of religious art in elite and popular society, Anglo-French cross-cultural perceptions in religion and politics, court culture and ceremonial and patronage and the political uses of the honours system. His latest book called Art and Religion in Eighteenth-Century Europe has just appeared and his next major research project is a book provisionally entitled Enlightenment, Cultural Politics and the University of Oxford, 1690-1800.

Prof. Steven King BA (Kent), ACIB, PhD (Liverpool), KBK
Steve King is Professor of Economic History and the Medical Humanities. He is Director of the University of Leicester Medical Humanities Research Centre and editor of Family and Community History. His research interests span the period 1600-2012 and run from demography, industrialisation and poverty, through women’s suffrage and to modern policy matters such as the pension crisis and the credit crunch. His latest publications are: King, Women, Welfare and Local Politics 1880-1920: “We Might be Trusted” (Brighton, 2010); A. Gestrich, E. Hurren and S. A. King (eds.), Poverty and Sickness in Modern Europe: Narratives of the Sick Poor, 1780-1938 (London, 2012); King, ‘The healing tree’, in L. Auricchio, E. Heckendorn Cook and G. Pacini (eds.), Invaluable Trees: Cultures of Nature 1660-1830 (Oxford, 2012), 237-50; and S. A. King and M. Shephard, ‘Courtship and the remarrying man in late-Victorian England’, Journal of Family History, 61 (2012), 1-22. Steve King supervises PhDs in all of these areas and currently has students working on land agents; domestic servants; market towns; Northamptonshire aristocratic estates; and the marriage strategies of the gentry.

Dr. Denise McHugh MA, PhD (Leicester)
Dr Denise McHugh has a MA in Victorian Studies, a PhD in nineteenth century urban history and a passion for the Victorian built environment! Her research interests include provincial Victorian towns and society, the nineteenth century built landscape and teaching and learning in adult education. Denise teaches history for the Institute of Lifelong Learning at the University of Leicester (LILL) and the Open University, she is an Honorary Research Fellow at the Centre for Urban History.

Dr. Julian North, BA, DPhil (Oxford)
Lecturer in English. Dr North works on nineteenth-century literature. She has particular interests in nineteenth-century autobiography and biography, the writings of Thomas De Quincey, and Romantic and Victorian drug literature. She has also written on film adaptations of Jane Austen. Her most recent book is The Domestication of Genius, a study of biography and the Romantic poet, with a focus on early Lives of Byron, Wordsworth, Coleridge, P.B. Shelly and Felicia Hemans.
Prof. Martin Stannard, BA (Warwick), MA (Sussex), DPhil (Oxford), FRLS
Professor of Modern Literature. Martin’s broad research interests are in British Catholic convert fiction, biography and non-fiction generally, and in the theory of textual editing. He has served as a member of the Management Committee of Authors and chairs two MAs: the MA in Modern Literature and the Arts Faculty’s MA in Humanities. Since 1995 he has convened the Leicester/Pisa Collaborative Research Colloquium which meets annually, and which has spawned a new series of books of which he is joint general editor with Professor Greg Walker. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature and a Fellow of the English Association. Martin has published extensively on Evelyn Waugh following The Critical Heritage (1984) with a major biography in two volumes (1986 and 1992). He has also published essays and review-essays on, amongst others, Kingsley Amis, Michael Arien, Dickens, Ford Madox Ford, David Garnett, Graham Greene, William Gerhardie, Christopher Isherwood and Phillip Larkin. In 1995 he published the Norton Critical Edition of Ford’s The Good Soldier, an experiment in textual editing which includes material engaging with the challenge of literary theory to traditional editorial practice, and with the phenomenon of ‘literary impressionism’.
