Welcome/Introduction

The MA English Studies allows you to develop knowledge in the areas of English literary studies that interest you most, with modules covering literature and language from the Anglo-Saxon period to the early twenty-first century. Students will also acquire advanced research skills to enable independent scholarly enquiry.

This Master’s course offers the opportunity to write a dissertation of either 15,000 or 25,000 words and is suited to those thinking of subsequent research to doctoral level as well as to those wishing to pursue careers in other areas.

As well as the dissertation, the course consists of an assessed module in Bibliography and Research Methods and either three or four specialist modules, depending on the dissertation length chosen. You’ll be asked to decide before the end of Semester One which dissertation route you wish to take. Please see Module Descriptions below for further details.

The School of English hosts a number of events including the English Research Seminars, the Centre for New Writing series, the Leicester Early Modern Seminar, the Victorian Studies Seminar Series, and the Modern Literature special lectures. These offer you the opportunity to hear talks by visiting speakers and by Leicester academics.

This Handbook contains important information about the course and University: the course structure, module outlines, marking criteria, staff details, facts about the library and computing facilities, and more. Please read the Handbook carefully – you’ll need to refer to it throughout the course.

The MA tutors look forward to teaching you and wish you an enjoyable and successful year!

Dr Kate Loveman
Course Director
September 2016

Induction

An induction session will be held 11.00am to 1.00pm on Wednesday 28 September: this session will include students from across the School of Arts. At 2.00pm Dr Julian North will lead an introduction to taught postgraduate study in the School, and Dr Kate Loveman will meet with MA English Studies students separately at 3.00pm.

For International Students

International students are encouraged to attend the University’s International Student Welcome Programme (http://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/welfare/international-student-support/iww) prior to the beginning of term. International Student Support also provide ongoing support and advice for International students (http://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/welfare/international-student-support).

Students who are non-native English speakers and/or who are not familiar with UK Higher Education are strongly advised to attend the English Language Teaching Unit’s in-sessional programme Academic English for Postgraduates and Staff (http://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/eltu/insessional/academic-english-language-support-courses/el7000). These classes are provided free of charge for postgraduates and are designed to develop students’ English-language and study skills.

If you will be arriving late and will miss the induction sessions, please contact the School Office at EnglishMA@le.ac.uk at the earliest convenience.
Department Details

A brief history of the School may be found here: www2.le.ac.uk/departments/english/about

The School is located in the Attenborough Tower, primarily on floors 13, 14, and 15. The School Office is Attenborough 1514. Campus maps are available at: http://www.le.ac.uk/maps/documents/uol.pdf and http://www.le.ac.uk/maps/.

Information on School research interests can be found via the staff list at: www2.le.ac.uk/departments/english/people

Departmental Communications

Pigeonholes for postgraduate students are located on the sixteenth floor. Noticeboards containing information relevant to postgraduates are also located on the sixteenth floor. Staff pigeonholes are located on the fifteenth floor, in Attenborough 1514.

Dr Loveman, Director of the MA English Studies in the first semester, is available to discuss academic and pastoral matters during the consultation hours advertised on the door of her room. Alternatively please email her to arrange a time.

In addition, all students are allocated a personal tutor, whom they are invited to consult about personal and academic difficulties met during the course. Your personal tutor will offer confidential advice and support on a range of matters, from official dealings with the University, College or School (this includes advice on issues relating to modules on which your personal tutor also teaches; as personal tutor their role is to provide you with support, not discipline) to guidance on how to proceed in the event of a failure. It is in your interests to ensure that your personal tutor is kept informed about anything that might affect your ability to fulfil your assignment and attendance obligations. Your personal tutor will be able to put you in touch with a range of specialist advisers within the university, qualified to give financial, medical and welfare advice.

For administrative matters, the Programme Administration team are available in Attenborough 1514 from 9.00am to 5.00pm, Monday to Friday.

Student Communications and Personal Details

The University keeps a record of your personal details such as your full name, addresses i.e. home address and term-time address, telephone numbers, personal email address and your emergency contact details. It is important to keep your details up to date as this will help you to receive information about your studies and exams and also ensure that official documents are provided to you with the correct name details.

You can check and update your details by logging-in to MyStudentRecord [http://mystudentrecord.le.ac.uk] using your University username and password. Click on the My Details tab and you will then be able to review and change your personal details.

It is important that you check your University email account frequently to ensure that you do not miss any important communication from the University.

Research Seminar Series

The School hosts a number of research seminar series during the year; postgraduate students are very welcome to attend these seminars.

Leicester Linguistics Seminar

The Leicester Linguistics Seminars are held 4 or 5 times during the academic year, at dates and times that will be announced at the beginning of each semester. The talks, many given by scholars from outside the University of Leicester, cover a diverse range of topics in language and linguistics. ELL MA students on campus are expected to attend these sessions.

Victorian Studies Spring Seminar Series

The Victorian Studies Spring Seminar series takes place on Wednesday evenings in Attenborough 1315, the Phillip Collins Seminar Room. The dates for 2016 are to be confirmed.

Early Modern Research Seminar

This seminar covers the period 1500-1800. Dates for 2016/7 are to be confirmed. Please e-mail earlymodern@le.ac.uk to be added to the seminar email list and receive further information.

Learn a New Language with Languages at Leicester

There are many benefits to learning a new language. Not only could you enhance your career prospects and broaden your cultural horizons, but studies show that you could also improve your literacy skills, boost your memory, increase your attention span and even help to grow your brain!
Study with the Languages at Leicester Team on campus, and you will be taught by expert native tutors who are based within our School of Modern Languages, which has been ranked 3rd in the country in the University League Tables, The Guardian University Guide 2016.

We offer 16 different languages including Arabic, British Sign Language, Chinese, German, Korean and Spanish to name just a few, six levels of learning and two course lengths, so you can study in a way that suits you. Classes take place during evenings and Wednesday afternoons, as well as intensive ‘fast track’ courses on Saturday mornings.

Find out more about Languages at Leicester, including fees and term dates at: www.le.ac.uk/ml/lal.

The successful completion of a Languages at Leicester course will appear on your Higher Education Achievement Report (HEAR) when you graduate. For further details about the HEAR, please visit: www.le.ac.uk/hear.

University Regulations

Senate Regulations (www.le.ac.uk/sas/regulations) contain rules and other important information about being an undergraduate or taught postgraduate student at the University of Leicester. The Regulations are part of the formal contract between you and the University; you will have confirmed when completing registration that you will comply with procedures defined in the University’s Regulations.

The Quick Guide to Student Responsibilities (www.le.ac.uk/sas/regulations/responsibilities) summarises some of your most important responsibilities as a student at Leicester, as defined in detail in the Regulations. These responsibilities relate to:

- attendance
- submission of work by set deadlines
- term time employment (full-time students – Home/EU and International)
- illness or other circumstances impacting upon studies
- maintaining your personal details
- the additional responsibilities of international students

Failure to adhere to student responsibilities can have serious consequences and may lead to the termination of your studies.

Student Responsibilities

The University expects its students to behave responsibly and with consideration to others at all times. The University’s expectations about student behaviour are described in:

- the Student Charter
- the Regulations governing Student Discipline
- the Student Code of Social Responsibility
- the Code of Practice governing Freedom of Speech
- the University’s regulatory statement concerning Harassment and Discrimination

These can be found at www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulations

Attendance and Engagement Requirements

Attendance and engagement with your course is an essential requirement for success in your studies. The University’s expectations about attendance are defined in Senate Regulation 4: governing student obligations (see www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation4). Full-time students must reside in Leicester, or within easy commuting distance of the city, for the duration of each semester. You should attend all lectures, seminars, practical sessions and other formal classes specified in your course timetable, unless you have been officially advised that attendance at a particular session is not compulsory or you have received formal approval for absence. You are also expected to undertake all assessments set for you.

The University operates a Student Attendance Monitoring procedure. Your attendance will be monitored throughout the academic year and if sessions are missed without an acceptable explanation being provided to your department then neglect of academic obligations procedures will be initiated. This may result in your course of study being terminated.
If you are an international student and your course is terminated this will be reported to UK Visas and Immigration (UKVI), in line with University sponsor obligations.

Neglect of Academic Obligations

You are expected to attend all learning and teaching events which are timetabled for you. These include lectures, tutorials or practical classes. You are also expected to submit work within the deadlines notified to you. Persistent failure to attend taught sessions and/or to submit work, without good cause, will be considered to be a neglect of academic obligations. Departmental procedures for dealing with neglect are set out within the University’s regulations (see http://www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation ‘Neglect of academic obligations’). In the most serious of cases of neglect the University has the right to terminate a student’s course.

Course details

Programme and Module Specifications

View the programme and module specifications for your course via www.le.ac.uk/sas/courses.

In the programme specification you will find a summary of the aims of your course of study and its learning outcomes, alongside details of its teaching and learning methods and means of assessment. The programme specification also identifies the core modules that make up the course and any choice of optional modules. Each module has its own specification that formally records that module’s aims, teaching and learning methods, assessment components and their percentage weighting.

Students will submit two copies of their bibliography and deliver their presentation in the last seminar of the module on 7 December 2016 (see timetable).

EN7223: Editing and Textual Cultures

This core module introduces students to a wide range of textual practices and cultures in English literature. In weekly two-hour seminars, we will investigate how the interpretation of works is affected by editorial factors and explore theories of textual editing, book history, and material culture. You will gain a sound understanding of past and present editorial practices and the ability to appraise methodologies and approaches relevant to your own work.

See the module blackboard site for details of course reading. A general reading list can be found at readinglists@Leicester: http://readinglists.le.ac.uk/lists/E5DCF6F3-395F-1D14-66A5-DFA18B8E70EA.html.

EN7224: Cities of Words

In this module, you will read and analyse literary and linguistic representations of the city from the early modern period to the present. Topics may include crime, eighteenth-century black Londoners, industrialisation, regionalism, migration, and creativity. In weekly two-hour seminars, you will be introduced to historical, geographical, cultural, and theoretical concepts that aim to explain changes in urban forms and meanings. Drawing on these, you will practise contextualizing literary representations across a range of urban topographies.

See the module blackboard site for details of course reading. A general reading list can be found at readinglists@Leicester: http://readinglists.le.ac.uk/lists/E559BB4A-742A-5B68-2D05-29637B76BB6F.html.

EN7125: Victorian Lives: Life-Writing in the Victorian Period

This module explores nineteenth-century life-writing through a wide variety of biographical and autobiographical texts, including literary Lives, working-class oral life histories, biography as a Victorian institution (the Dictionary of National Biography), and female autobiography. We will look at the construction of the self, issues of censorship, auto/biographical anxieties, and the influence of class and gender in Victorian life-writing.

See readinglists@Leicester

EN7126: Women in Literature, Culture and Society, 1850-1900

This interdisciplinary module will introduce you to the exciting range of writings by and about women in the second half of the nineteenth century. Central concerns will be those surrounding contentious contemporary issues such as:

- Women and domesticity
- The delights and dangers of the city
- The place of the fallen woman in nineteenth-century society
- Medical and scientific definitions of woman
- The professional woman writers
- Feminist and anti-feminist debates

Visual representations will be used to illuminate textual material and students will be encouraged to take advantage of the Library’s digital databases to enhance their understanding of the period.

See readinglists@Leicester
EN7128: The Brontës
This module offers you the opportunity to immerse yourself in the fiction of Charlotte, Emily, and Anne Brontë. You will extend your knowledge and understanding of the Brontës by thinking about their work analytically and critically in relation to the literary and historical contexts within which the sisters wrote and were received. You will be encouraged to pay attention to the differences between their writing as well as to their common ground, and to situate the novels in relation to women's fiction of the period, issues of genre (for example, Gothic and realism), and thematic issues such as marriage, gender and sexuality, education, work, and religion. We will also consider the power of the 'Brontë myth' in relation to biography, the heritage industry, and criticism of the novels.

EN7222: The English Country House in Literature
For many centuries, the English country house has served as a social context for the production of literature and as a rich source of inspiration for settings and themes in many of the great works of British literature. Country houses have been places of refuge, reflection, and inspiration for authors. The owners of country houses have often either been authors themselves or have acted as literary patrons. In addition to their exploration of the country house as a literary trope, the novels, poems, and plays that we will study on this module are valuable sources of information on every facet of the English country house, including its architecture and the social and economic life of country house communities. By the end of the module, you'll be able to assess the contribution of the country house to British literature both historically and in terms of changing literary representations.

See readinglists@Leicester:

EN7134: Literature and Gender: Deviant Bodies and Dissident Desires (Emma Parker)
This module draws on feminist and queer theory to explore the ways in which gender is constructed and represented in literature. It features texts that explore what it means to be a man or a woman, probe the relationship between gender, sex and sexuality and create what Judith Butler terms 'gender trouble' by highlighting the fluidity, multiplicity and performativity of gender in ways that challenges heteropatriarchal norms.

Primary Texts

EN7133: Poetry Writing and Contemporary Poetry (Nick Everett)
This module offers an introduction to contemporary poetry for students who would also like a go at creative writing. Students will discover some of the distinctive challenges contemporary poets face by writing poems themselves; and at the same time develop their own poetry writing by examining the work of a number of established contemporary figures.

Another significant objective is to study poetry across the boundaries - national, ideological and technical - within which critical accounts and academic courses tend to confine it. Thus we will read British and Irish alongside American poems, and experimental (or countercultural) alongside mainstream ones. Poets featured will include John Ashbery, Simon Armitage, Carol Ann Duffy, Michael Hofmann, Louise Gluck, Douglas Dunn, Sharon Olds, Glyn Maxwell, Alice Oswald, Mark Ford, Ron Silliman, Lyn Hejinian, Marilyn Hacker, Paul Muldoon and Jorie Graham. The organisation and focus of our study will come not from nation, movement or author, then, but from a series of generic and thematic groupings each providing its distinctive insights into contemporary poetry (and the contemporary world). These groupings will be arranged under the following five headings: an issue (reference), a genre (elegy), a mode (narrative), a subject (landscape) and a form (villanelle).

See readinglists@Leicester: http://readinglists.le.ac.uk/lists/98DF12F2-40B8-66D9-2AEE-30D1016DDC35.html

Recommended titles include works giving advice on poetic composition as well as anthologies of, and critical works about, contemporary poetry

Dissertation Preparation (EN7227/EN7228)

By the end of November, you will have chosen, in consultation with the Course Convenor, whether you wish to take EN7227 (60-credit Dissertation) or EN7228 (90-credit dissertation).

If you are first-year part-time student, you need to make your decision on choosing the 60- or 90-credit dissertation route by late November as this affects your module choice for semester 2 of your first year: so please consult with staff about your ideas. However, work on the dissertation will not begin in earnest until your second year.

EN7227: 60-Credit Dissertation:

The 60-credit dissertation is 15,000 words long. If you decide to take this dissertation, you will also take EN7224 Cities of Words in Semester 2. Proposals for the dissertation are presented at a special seminar in the summer term (see course timetable). All full-time students present dissertation proposals at this seminar. First-year part-time students are strongly encouraged to present proposals too, even if they are still very provisional, to assist them in preparing for the dissertation they will be writing next academic year. Second-year part-time students taking the 60 credit dissertation may also find it useful to participate, though they will already have been allocated supervisors and will have been working on their dissertations for several months.

Before the formal presentation session, students meet together without staff present. This first meeting is informal but mandatory, and its purpose is to help students assess together the scope and nature of each other’s chosen topic, as well as to begin planning the research necessary to complete their dissertation. The second session is more formal, although not assessed. At this meeting, students present their proposals to members of the MA staff, who will offer new perspectives on specific projects as well as advice on more general issues.

The presentation should:

- not be any longer than five minutes
- give a general outline of the topic and address two or three specific issues relating to it
- comment on the appeal and potential of the project
- include a list of key research questions
- indicate methodology and, where appropriate, relevant theoretical frameworks
- consider how the material in the dissertation might be best organised
- identify gaps in knowledge and outline areas that require development
- comment on any problems students envisage they may encounter
- be of a professional standard (including, for instance, the use of a handout and /or audio-visual equipment, such as PowerPoint)
- demonstrate that students have developed good presentation skills

Please notify your Programme Administrator, David Revill, of any audio-visual equipment you will require for the pre-presentation meeting and for the main presentation meeting. If you require a laptop computer for a PowerPoint presentation, please also let David know on englishMA@le.ac.uk the drive you require (CD or USB port).

Students are required to submit a written proposal in typescript on the Dissertation Proposal form, available electronically on Blackboard, to the School Office (Attenborough 1514 or englishMA@le.ac.uk). The proposal must include a proposed title, a brief outline of the subject and focus of the project (no more than 200 words), an account of its aims and methods (no more than 400 words) and a short bibliography featuring key primary and secondary sources.

EN7228: 90-Credit Dissertation

The 90-credit Dissertation is 25,000 words long. If you decide to take this dissertation, you will not be able to take EN7224 Cities of Words. Full-time students will need to start planning their proposals towards the end of Semester 1. In the first instance you should approach either your personal tutor or the course convenor, who will discuss your topic with you to ensure that it is suitable; they may also advise you to talk to a member of staff who has a research specialism in your proposed area of study. You are required to submit a 200-word proposal, soon after which you will be allocated a supervisor. For full-time students the supervision process will start early in Semester 2 and continue through the rest of the course; for part-time students, supervision commences towards the end of their first year.

The deadline for written proposals to englishMA@le.ac.uk are:

- for full time students, 12 noon on Wednesday 18 January 2017
- for first year part-time students, 12 noon on Friday 23 June 2017

Supervision: 60-credit dissertation

This is an independent project but at every stage, from conception through composition and revision to final submission, academic staff are available to offer support and feedback. A dissertation supervisor will be allocated soon after the formal proposal is submitted, but students are encouraged to seek the advice of academic staff in the early stages of conceiving the project. With the help of the supervisor’s advice and guidance, students plan, develop, revise and improve their work through a series of drafts. They will be provided with up to five hours of one-to-one supervision and must meet with their supervisor on a formal basis on at least three occasions during the process of writing the dissertation (between May and September for full-time students). In exceptional cases, students may make alternative arrangements for supervision (e.g. via email), but must then keep a record of all communications with their supervisor. In addition, students are expected to spend 445 hours on private study during the course of the dissertation. Supervisors may read and offer feedback on all of a dissertation in draft but must not be asked to look at multiple drafts of the same section/chapter. The final date for the submission of draft work to supervisors is 1 September (except by special arrangement). After supervisions, students are required to submit a short summary of the meeting (of no more than one page of A4) to their supervisor as an aid to self-reflection and a record of progress.

EN7228: 90-Credit Dissertation

The 90-credit Dissertation is 25,000 words long. If you decide to take this dissertation, you will not be able to take EN7224 Cities of Words. Full-time students will need to start planning their proposals towards the end of Semester 1. In the first instance you should approach either your personal tutor or the course convenor, who will discuss your topic with you to ensure that it is suitable; they may also advise you to talk to a member of staff who has a research specialism in your proposed area of study. You are required to submit a 200-word proposal, soon after which you will be allocated a supervisor. For full-time students the supervision process will start early in Semester 2 and continue through the rest of the course; for part-time students, supervision commences towards the end of their first year.

The deadline for 90-credit written proposals to englishMA@le.ac.uk are:

- for full time students, 12 noon on Wednesday 18 January 2017
- for first year part-time students, 12 noon on Friday 23 June 2017
Presentation: 90-credit dissertation

In Semester 2 you will be required to deliver a 15-minute assessed presentation which will be examined by two members of the School; the audience will consist of students and tutors from the MA programme. Before the assessment, there will normally be the opportunity to practice your presentation at a student-only session; this is intended to be a mutually supportive occasion, when you can offer feedback to your peers. Your presentation should:

- give an outline of your topic and address two or three issues relating to it
- indicate your chosen methodology
- identify research questions
- be of a professional standard, including the use of PowerPoint or handouts as necessary
- demonstrate that you have developed good presentation skills

There will be the opportunity for the audience to ask questions after your presentation. Please notify your Programme Administrator of any audio-visual equipment you will require for the pre-presentation meeting and the presentation.

Ten percent of the overall module mark for the 90-credit dissertation will depend on the presentation. However, the module grade may not be lowered by the mark awarded for the oral presentation. An exception to this rule is if a mark of 0% is awarded for the presentation, as a result of the student’s failure to attend the presentation, and in the absence of mitigating circumstances. If a student misses the presentation but has mitigating circumstances to explain their absence, the module grade will be that awarded for the dissertation (i.e. the dissertation will count as 100%).

Supervision: 90-credit dissertation

This is an independent project but at every stage, from conception through composition and revision to final submission, staff are available to offer support and feedback. A dissertation supervisor will be allocated soon after the formal proposal is submitted, but students are encouraged to seek the advice of academic staff in the early stages of conceiving the project. With the help of the supervisor’s advice and guidance, students plan, develop, revise and improve their work through a series of drafts. They are provided with up to ten hours of one-to-one supervision and must meet with their supervisor on a formal basis on at least five occasions during the process of writing the dissertation (between January and September for full-time students). In exceptional cases, students may make alternative arrangements for supervision (e.g. via email), but must then keep a record of all communications with their supervisor. In addition, students are expected to spend 665 hours on private study during the course of the dissertation. Supervisors may read and offer feedback on all of a dissertation in draft but must not be asked to look at multiple drafts of the same section/chapter. After supervisions, students are required to submit a short summary of the meeting (of no more than one page of A4) to their supervisor as an aid to self-reflection and a record of progress.

You should make sure that you submit your assignments by their due date to avoid any marks being deducted for lateness. Penalties for late submission of coursework follow the University scheme defined in Regulations governing the assessment of taught programmes (see www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation7 or www.le.ac.uk/sas/assessments/late-submission).
Teaching Timetable

You can access your teaching timetable via My Student Record. While we aim to notify students directly of any late changes, we would advise you to check your timetable on a regular basis.

Change of Course/Module

Discuss your options with your personal tutor, or another appropriate member of staff in your department, if you are considering a change of course or module. Changes of course or module require approval by your department and will only be allowed in certain circumstances.

See www.le.ac.uk/sas/courses/transfercourse or www.le.ac.uk/sas/courses/transfermodule for details of the procedures involved and deadlines that apply.

Marking and Assessment Practices

Student anonymity will be preserved during the marking of all formal examinations. Summative coursework (i.e. coursework that contributes to your module mark or grade) will be marked anonymously unless there are sound educational reasons for not doing so, or the type of assessment makes marking impractical.

Each programme at the University has one or more External Examiners, who are members of staff of other institutions that review the academic standards at the University and confirm that these are appropriate and comparable with other Universities.

The External Examiners for your courses are listed at:
www.le.ac.uk/sas/assessments/external/current-postgraduate-external-examiners

Feedback and the Return of Work from Staff

Coursework

The Department complies with the University’s policy for the return of marked coursework (see www.le.ac.uk/sas/quality/student-feedback/return-of-marked-work for details of the full policy:

General principles:

- Feedback and provisional grading on coursework will be returned within 21 days of the submission date;
- In exceptional circumstances where this is not possible, you will be notified in advance of the expected return date and the reasons for the longer turn-round time and where possible staff will provide some interim feedback: for example in the form of generic feedback to the class regarding common errors and potential areas for improvement.

Examinations

*see guidance notes about additional content

The Department complies with the University’s policy for the return feedback on examinations (see www.le.ac.uk/sas/quality/student-feedback/return-of-marked-work for details of the full policy:

General principles:

- Following the approval of the provisional results by examination boards, departments will make the results available to students within 14 days. Where appropriate this will include a breakdown at the level of the examination and coursework.
- Departments will arrange for feedback on examination performance to be provided.
Progression and Classification of Awards

The University’s system for the classification of awards and the rules of progression are defined in the Regulations governing taught postgraduate programmes of study (www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation6). Alternatively, refer to the Student and Academic Services website for information about degree classification and progression: www.le.ac.uk/sas/assessments/pgt-progressionaward

Any specific progression requirements for your course are stated in its programme specification (see http://www.le.ac.uk/sas/courses/documentation)

Should you fail to achieve a pass mark (50%) in a module, you will be entitled to re-sit or re-submit any of the failed components of assessment associated with that module, on one occasion only. Please note, however, that the number of credits of taught modules that you are entitled to re-sit or re-submit is half of the credit value of the taught component of the programme (i.e. up to 60 taught credits if you are undertaking a short dissertation or up to 45 taught credits if you are undertaking a long dissertation). One resubmission of the dissertation will normally be allowed. For further details, please refer to Senate Regulation 6: Regulations governing taught postgraduate programmes of study.

Please also see your Study Skills Guide.

Referencing and Academic Integrity

Principles of academic integrity apply to the work of everyone at the University, staff and students alike, and reflect the University’s commitment to maintaining the highest ethical and academic standards. A key part of this is acknowledging where and when, in the process of producing your own work, you have drawn on the work of others. In practice, this means that the ideas, data, information, quotations and illustrations you use in assignments, presentations, reports, research projects etc. must be credited to their original author(s). This process of crediting the work of others is achieved through referencing (see the section below on ‘Referencing styles’). Failure to do this properly is to risk committing plagiarism: the repetition or paraphrasing of someone else’s work without proper acknowledgement.

Your coursework must meet each of the following conditions:

- You should agree your essay question with the module tutor before commencing to write. If you have been provided with a list of possible essay questions but have decided not to use any of the, then you must consult with your module tutor to get approval before commencing your essay.
- The School of Arts recommends the MHRA referencing system (www.style.mhra.org.uk), but if you are familiar with an alternative system, such as MLA or Harvard, you may use this instead. (Please note on your work the name of the alternative referencing system.) Please consult an appropriate style guide to ensure you are using your chosen system correctly.
- Your essay should be within the stated word limit. Word limits include footnotes and appendices but exclude bibliographies.
- Your essay must be word-processed (or typed). If, exceptionally, you have been given permission to submit it in hand-written form, you MUST write legibly.
- Make sure that you put your student number and module title in the header of your essay, as well as on the cover sheet. Do not put your name on either.
- Your essay should be on one side of the paper only and in double-line spacing. There must be a wide margin on the left-hand side of the page.
- The pages must be numbered.
- It is ESSENTIAL for you to keep a copy of your work.
- Students are required to submit an electronic copy of their assignments by the relevant deadline. Each assignment should be submitted via the Turnitin link of the relevant Blackboard site.
• Please note that if your assignment is submitted after the deadline, lateness penalties will be applicable, unless you can provide evidence of mitigating circumstances which explain your late or non-submission. Under current University Regulations, 10 marks are deducted for the first day of non-submission; each subsequent day will see a deduction of 5 further marks until your work reaches the level of a bare pass.

• Once you have submitted the electronic copy of your assignment via Turnitin, you will receive a TurnitinUK Digital Receipt to confirm that your assignment has been successfully uploaded. This receipt will also be sent as an email to your University of Leicester I.T. account. It will confirm the date and time of submission, and will provide you with a submission ID. Please ensure that you have received your TurnitinUK Digital Receipt prior to the submission deadline, as lateness penalties cannot be waived if the electronic copy of your assignment has not been submitted on time.

• If your piece of work does not meet all the School’s requirements, it will not be accepted as examinable material.

• Work submitted for assessment which does not meet the requirements of the examiners in respect of presentation (including grammar, spelling and punctuation) will be referred back for amendment.

• Candidates who have not passed their coursework will not be permitted to proceed to the dissertation, or, in the case of part-time students, will not be permitted to enter the second year of the course.

Essays and exercises are double marked. Work is usually marked within 21 days of submission. Work which is submitted late, for any reason, falls outside of this schedule.

In addition, for dissertations:

• Supervisors may read and offer feedback on all of a dissertation in draft but must not be asked to look at multiple drafts of the same section/chapter.

• Dissertations should not be more than 15,000 words in length (25,000 words for the MAES 90-credit version) including notes, but excluding the bibliography. This limit may only be exceeded by prior permission of the supervisor.

• Put your student number, not your name, on the dissertation.

• Front cover (cardboard) of dissertation should bear same details as title page, i.e.

  DISSERTATION TITLE
  MA in English Studies
  University of Leicester
  2016
  CANDIDATE NUMBER (NOT NAME)

• Students are required to submit three copies of their dissertation, word-processed and soft bound (also called 'perfect bound'), by Tuesday 3 October 2017 with a completed Postgraduate Assessment Feedback: Written Work cover sheet placed in (but not bound into) each copy.

  • We recommend that dissertations be bound by the University’s Print Services (website http://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/printservices; drop-off and collection service via the Bookshop), who require one day for binding or three days for printing/copying and binding. Enquiries to 0116 252 2851 or printservices@le.ac.uk. You are free to select your own choice of colour for the cover.

• Dissertations should be handed in at the School Office (Att.1514) and also submitted electronically on Turnitin.

  • It may not be possible for dissertations submitted after Tuesday 3 October 2017 to be considered by the next Board of Examiners. Thus, failure to submit by the deadline may mean the award of the degree, and the opportunity to graduate, will be delayed.

Turnitin plagiarism software is used in the School of English. In addition to two paper copies, you are also required to submit each essay electronically via the Turnitin plagiarism-detection database on Blackboard:
• Log on to the relevant Blackboard module site
• Click on 'Assignments'
• Click on 'View/Complete' for the relevant assignment
• Fill in your name and the title of the essay. The title of your essay should be your nine-digit student number.
• Click on 'Browse' and select the essay as you would an attachment to an email (the software accepts the following file types: Word, Text, Postscript, PDF, HTML, and RTF)
• Click 'Open' (this will return you to the Turnitin page)
• Click 'Submit'

You will be sent an email to confirm that you have submitted your essay successfully. You will not be able to see the originality report.

If you have any concerns about plagiarism you should talk to your supervisor, seminar tutor or personal tutor about it.

The University views academic integrity as one of the foundations of academic development. A key part of this is the acknowledgement of the work of others. You must always be sure that you credit ideas, data, information, quotations and illustrations to their original author. Not to do so is plagiarism: the repetition or paraphrasing of someone else’s work without proper acknowledgement.

The University expects students to conduct their studies with exemplary standards of academic honesty and will penalise students who submit work, or parts of work, that have been:

• plagiarised;
• completed with others for individual assessment (collusion);
• previously submitted for assessment, including self-plagiarism;
• prepared by others;
• supplied to another for copying

What we mean by ‘plagiarism’, ‘self-plagiarism’ and ‘collusion’

Plagiarism is used as a general term to describe taking and using another’s thoughts and writings and presenting them as if they are our own. Examples of forms of plagiarism include:

• the verbatim (word for word) copying of another’s work without appropriate and correctly presented acknowledgement;
• the close paraphrasing of another’s work by simply changing a few words or altering the order of presentation, with or without appropriate and correctly presented acknowledgement;
• unacknowledged quotation of phrases from another’s work;
• the presentation of another’s concept as one’s own;
• the reproduction of a student’s own work when it has been previously submitted and marked but is presented as original material (self-plagiarism).

Collusion is where work is prepared or produced with others but then submitted for assessment as if it were the product of individual effort. Unless specifically instructed otherwise, all work you submit for assessment should be your own and must not be work previously submitted for assessment either at Leicester or elsewhere. For more detailed information on how the university defines these practices, see also: www.le.ac.uk/sas/assessments/plagiarism

The University regards plagiarism and collusion as very serious offences and so they are subject to strict penalties. The penalties that departments are authorised to apply are defined in the Regulations governing student discipline (see www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation11 ‘Plagiarism and collusion: Departmental penalties for plagiarism and/or collusion).
Resources and advice to help you study with integrity and avoid committing plagiarism

Negotiating these various rules, regulations and conventions can sometimes be a challenge, especially if they are new or different from previous experiences of studying. Check the Student Learning Development website for guidance on how to manage your studies so that you meet the required standards of critical scholarship and academic integrity: www2.le.ac.uk/offices/ld/resources/study/plagiarism-tutorial

If you are in any doubt about what constitutes good practice, ask your personal/academic tutors for advice or make an appointment with Student Learning Development for individual advice. You can book an appointment online by visiting: www.le.ac.uk/succeedinyourstudies.

One of the most important practices in ensuring the academic integrity of your work is proper referencing. The following section contains details of how to ensure your work meets the specific referencing requirements for the discipline(s) you are studying.

Referencing style

You must use a consistent referencing style when referring to books and other publications that you have read for your coursework. Most subject areas have a specific referencing style which you are required to use. If you are on a Joint or Major/Minor programme you may find that your subjects use different referencing styles and it is important that you use the correct ones. To find out which referencing style each department uses, and for information and help on each referencing style, please visit http://www.le.ac.uk/library/help/referencing.

Requirements differ on how to arrange bibliographies (complete list of all reference and other sources at the end of your coursework) and whether references are included within the word count for your coursework – please refer to any separate guidance provided on these points.

Mitigating Circumstances

The University recognises that students may suffer from a sudden illness or other serious event or set of circumstances which adversely affects their ability to complete an assessment or the results they obtain for an assessment. In such cases the mitigating circumstances regulations and procedures may be applied. These regulations are designed to ensure the fair and consistent treatment of all students.

You must keep your department(s) informed at all times of any personal circumstances that may impact upon your ability to study or undertake assessments. Tell your department(s) or Distance Learning Hub about any such circumstances at the time they occur. You need to supply supporting documentation (e.g. a medical certificate) as soon as possible and no later than the deadline relevant to the assessment(s) affected. Normally, the deadline for submission of a mitigating circumstances claim will be no later than five working days after the assessment deadline to which it relates.

See www.le.ac.uk/sas/regulations/mitigation for full details of the mitigating circumstances regulations and procedures, including the University’s definition of a mitigating circumstance.

A student may submit a mitigating circumstances claim if they feel that the submission of one or more pieces of work has been or will be affected by a serious or significant event. You will be automatically enrolled on a Blackboard site titled Mitigating Circumstances through which you should submit your form and evidence.

If a student has submitted a mitigating circumstances form along with supporting evidence, their case will be considered by the Mitigating Circumstances Panel. Our Mitigating Circumstances Panel meets weekly during term-time. Its membership comprises colleagues from the School of Arts, which allows us to schedule regular Mitigating Circumstances Panel meetings so as to present timely responses to our students. Please note that student confidentiality is of utmost importance to the Mitigating Circumstances Panel, and specific information will never be disclosed outside of the Mitigating Circumstances Panel.
The Mitigating Circumstances Panel has the power to make one of the following recommendations:

a. To waive a lateness penalty automatically applied to a piece of coursework will be or has been submitted after the submission deadline
b. To be provided with an opportunity to take a piece/pieces of assessment again, as if the first time, with the full marks available (i.e. not capped at 50) rather than imposing a cap
c. Determine that there is sufficient evidence of the achievement of the intended learning outcomes from other pieces of assessment in the module(s) for an overall mark to be derived;
d. The mitigating circumstances be noted against a module so that the Board of Examiners can take this into account when making a decision about the degree classification being awarded

Students should submit evidence of mitigating circumstances within five working days of the relevant assessment deadline. You can expect to receive a decision (via email) in relation to your form and evidence within ten working days of this having been submitted.

Ethical Approval of Student Projects

Ethical approval is needed for all research and consultancy undertaken by University staff and students (both undergraduate and postgraduate) wherever research and related activities involves human participants or raises ethical issues. All research and related activities within the University which involves human participants, or which raise ethical issues, require approval through the University’s ethical review system: http://www2.le.ac.uk/institution/ethics/approval.

Personal Support for Students

Departmental Student Support Arrangements

From discussion of academic progress, to friendly advice on personal matters; personal tutors are there to provide support, advice and guidance on an individual level. Common topics for discussion may include course changes, study progress, module choices, exam results, career opportunities or more personal problems such as accommodation or financial difficulties. The Department’s personal tutor system operates in accordance with the Code of Practice on Personal Support for Students:

Your personal tutor will offer confidential advice and support on a range of matters, from official dealings with the University, College or School (this includes advice on issues relating to modules on which your personal tutor also teaches; as personal tutor their role is to provide you with support, not discipline) to guidance on how to proceed in the event of a failure. It is in your interests to ensure that your personal tutor is kept informed about anything that might affect your ability to fulfil your assignment and attendance obligations. Your personal tutor will be able to put you in touch with a range of specialist advisers within the university, qualified to give financial, medical and welfare advice.

The writing of references for potential employers is generally done by your personal tutor. Please do remember to ask your personal tutor, though, before giving his or her name as a referee. It would also help your tutor if you could provide an up-to-date curriculum vitae, and specific details about the position applied for.

Equal Opportunities

The School Equal Opportunities Officer is TBC.

The School AccessAbility contact is Mr David Revill (dar22@le.ac.uk).

If you have any concerns related to equal opportunities (ethnicity, gender, disability, etc.), these may be raised via your course representative via a Postgraduate Student-Staff Committee meeting.
University Student Support Arrangements

AccessAbility Centre

The Centre offers a range of services to all students who have specific learning difficulties, such as dyslexia, disabilities or long-term conditions including mental health which have a substantial day to day impact on their studies. Staff offer one to one support, the co-ordination of alternative examination arrangements and assistance with applications for the Disabled Students’ Allowance. It is possible to be screened for specific learning difficulties and access to formal assessment is available. Students are means tested to see if they are eligible for assistance with the cost of formal assessments. The open access Centre acts as a resource base for students and staff and is a relaxed place for students to work. Its computers are equipped with specialised software for screen enlargement. Essay planning and speech output software is on the University network. The Centre has some specialised equipment (CCTV, enlarged keyboard, and chairs) and some for loan (chairs, writing slopes and digital recorders). Photocopying and printing facilities are also available. The Centre welcomes self-referrals as well as referrals from academic staff.

Student Healthy Living Service

The Student Healthy Living Service provides direction to health care and health related activity which will contribute to wellbeing and help students to enjoy a balanced life. Students should register for health care local to the University; The University works closely with the Victoria Park Health Centre where staff have expertise in student health. More information can be found on the Healthy Living Service website.

Health Care and Registering with a Doctor

Illness can affect any one of us at any time and for this reason the University strongly advises you to register with a doctor in Leicester. The Victoria Park Health Centre (www.victoriaparkhealthcentre.co.uk) has expertise in student health and has provided medical care to the University’s students for many years. The Health Centre is located conveniently close to the main-campus and registration is free.

If when you come to University you are already under the care of a ‘specialised team’, have a known medical condition including mental health or waiting for an appointment it is still advisable to register at the Victoria Park Health Centre. Soon after arrival, make an appointment to discuss with one of the doctors who will then be in a better position to communicate with the relevant doctors and help you to manage your condition to avoid any unnecessary disruption to your studies. Please take with you information from your current doctor or consultant which includes diagnosis, current management, including medication (provide a certified English translation if the original is not in English). This is essential for international students as some conditions may be managed differently in this country, particularly in relation to medication which may be licensed differently and may need changing to something which is available to prescribe in this country. If you take medication for your condition you must bring 12 weeks supply with you to ensure continuity until the registration process is complete.

More information about registering with a doctor and other health and well-being services can be found at: http://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/healthy-living-for-students/new-students/uk-students

Careers and Skills Development

The School’s Career’s Tutor is Dr Chryso Hadjidemetriou.

Career Development Service

With your drive and determination, the Career Development Service can help you develop the skills and abilities that will not only help get you to where you want to be after university, but will stay with you for life.

Career development at Leicester isn’t just about getting some work experience and writing a CV; we make sure that you get personal support to achieve your aspirations. We’re here for you from the moment you arrive, through to your graduation and beyond. We’ll give you the opportunity to try new things and to figure out what you want from your career— what it is that really drives, motivates and inspires you.

We’ll also help you identify your personal strengths and what you need to develop to be ahead of the crowd. Even if you’re not sure what it is you want to do yet, we can help you develop the skills and experience that you need to get that first job out of university, but also the ability to manage your own career development and succeed on whichever path you choose.

It’s your career development journey and you decide where it is that you want to go. By working with us you make sure that you’re giving yourself the best possible chance to get there. We’ve got the knowledge and resources to spur you on to success so, by working with us, you really will make the most of you!

When you arrive at Leicester you’ll have access to MyCareers: https://mycareers.le.ac.uk, our career management system, by simply using your university username to login. This is the gateway to:

- Booking one-to-one appointments with our career consultants for support with career planning, job hunting, CVs and applications, and mock interviews
- Booking workshops, such as mock assessment centres and psychometric testing
- Meeting employers who are coming on campus
- Finding all the opportunities available exclusively for Leicester students such as paid internships, volunteering, and extra-curricular activities

If you are looking for part time work whilst studying, make sure you sign up to Unitemps, based in the Student Services Centre, for opportunities on campus and in the city.
We’re here to support you throughout your time at university so make sure that you come and visit us in the Student Services Centre in the Charles Wilson Building and log-in to your MyCareers account to get started!

Feedback from Students

Student Feedback Questionnaires

Students are asked to complete an online course questionnaire at the conclusion of the taught section of their course (at the end of the spring term or beginning of the summer term). The School uses this questionnaire feedback within the process of reviewing individual modules and the course as a whole. The Course Convenor will respond to feedback verbally (where appropriate) at the end-of-course meeting and will communicate actions taken via Blackboard.

Student Staff Committees

The School Postgraduate Student-Staff Committee meets three times each year.

Representatives are drawn from each of the School’s MA programmes and also from the English Research (PhD) programme. Volunteers are sought at the beginning of each academic year; the Students’ Union will circulate details about Course Rep elections.

The Postgraduate Staff-Student Committee will meet on the following dates and times:

1. TBC
2. TBC
3. TBC

If you would like to raise an issue at a PGSSC meeting, please contact your course representative. (Details are listed on Blackboard.)

Minutes of each meeting are posted on Blackboard; they are also forwarded to the School Meeting, the Students’ Union Education Unit and to the College Academic Committee.

The University’s Code of Practice on the Work of Student-Staff Committees may be downloaded here: www2.le.ac.uk/offices/sas2/quality/codes/documents/sscommittees.pdf

Societies

SPELL is the social and academic society for postgraduates in the School of English. We exist to nurture a lively postgraduate community within the department, acting as the social hub for both MA and PhD students. The society aims to support postgraduate students throughout their studies, whether that’s simply by offering a chance to make new friends and catch up with old ones, or through the development of research skills and interests at a workshop or Postgraduate Forum. Throughout the year we coordinate formal and informal events to bring postgraduates together, from casual socialising in the pub and/or afternoon tea to academic workshops. Regular events include an annual welcome reception, the Postgraduate Forum, Café Spell and a theatre trip, in addition to special events such as the Shakespeare workshop, creative writing workshop and the summer picnic held over the past year. We also maintain links with other societies across the College, such as the New History Lab.
The SPELL Committee is focused on reaching out to all postgraduates in the School of English and hope to run activities that everyone can enjoy. Please get in touch with any member of the committee if you have any suggestions/ideas for the future. We look forward to meeting you in October.

The new membership year will begin at our welcome reception at the beginning of term.

If you would like to join the Society, please see the SPELL web pages on the School of English site http://www2.le.ac.uk/departments/english/studentresources/societiesandcommittees or join our Facebook Group page: https://www.facebook.com/groups/208586385844425

Safety and Security

The School Safety Officer is Andrea Vear (av128@le.ac.uk, ext. 2662, Attenborough 1514).

Emergency Numbers

To summon the fire brigade, police, or ambulance from an internal phone: dial 888

If there is no reply: dial 9 then 999

From an external phone / payphone: dial 999

Attenborough Building

The Attenborough Building is open from 8.00am to 6.00pm, Monday to Friday.

The fire alarm is tested once a week, usually on Thursday at 9.30am. If the alarm sounds at another time, please exit the building via the stairs. Do not collect personal belongings. Follow any instructions issued by the fire wardens. The assembly point is the area in front of the Mathematics Building.

Paternoster

In order to prevent the Paternoster from malfunctioning, students are asked to observe strictly the safety instructions posted in each car.

Student ID Cards

If you need to order a replacement Student ID Card, please visit https://www2.le.ac.uk/offices/sas2/registration/librarycard.

Personal Belongings

Your personal belongings are not covered by the University’s insurance. You are therefore advised to check whether your parents’ or family policies provide adequate protection. If not, private insurance arrangements should be made.

A lost property service operates from the Security Lodge, which is situated at the far end of the Fielding Johnson Building on Wyggeston Drive, University entrance No. 1.

Bicycles may be brought onto the main campus but must be placed in the cycle racks provided, and appropriate security measures taken to help to prevent theft and damage. For advice on preventing cycle theft and details of the University’s Coded Cycle Scheme visit: www.le.ac.uk/estates/facilities_&_services/security/CodedCycleScheme.html

Complaints and Academic Appeals Procedures

The University has robust systems in place governing the quality and standards of its degree programmes and your experience as a student here. We are confident that, like the vast majority of students here, you will enjoy and be satisfied with your course. In most instances your department will be able to resolve any issues that do occur but we recognise that this will not always be possible. For this reason, the University has official procedures that allow eligible cases to be formally reviewed.

Information about these procedures, including the relevant forms, can be found on the Student and Academic Services website: see www.le.ac.uk/sas/regulations/appeals-complaints. These pages should be read in conjunction with the University’s Regulations governing student appeals (www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation10) and Regulations governing student complaints (www.le.ac.uk/senate-regulation12).
