

Graduate Student Masterclass
Professor Clare Anderson (History)
Ken Edwards Third Floor SR 324

7 February 4.00-6.30pm

UCLA professor Benjamin Madley's work on Indigenous destruction in a number of colonial locations is well known (see <http://www.history.ucla.edu/faculty/benjamin-madley>). In this masterclass, students will engage in discussion of three of Madley's articles:

- "Reexamining the American Genocide Debate: Meaning, Historiography, and New Methods," The American Historical Review 120:1 (February, 2015), 98-139.
- "From Terror to Genocide: Britain's Tasmanian Penal Colony and Australia's History Wars," Journal of British Studies 47:1 (January, 2008), 77-106.
- "From Africa to Auschwitz: How German South West Africa incubated ideas and methods adopted and developed by the Nazis in Eastern Europe," European History Quarterly 35:3 (July, 2005), 429-464.

The group will then attend a public lecture, delivered by Madley, at 5.30pm in Ken Edwards Lecture Theatre 2: "An American Genocide: The United States and the California Indian Catastrophe, 1846-1873". This lecture is co-sponsored by the Stanley Burton Centre, Centre for American Studies, and Global/ Colonial/ Postcolonial Research Cluster.

To register for the discussion and receive PDFs of the three articles above, please email Kellie Moss (km345@le.ac.uk) by 5 February.

All welcome!
