Celebrating 50 Years of Leicester in Space

Observing the Earth and Planets: The Next 50 Years Symposium

19th – 21st September 2011

University of Leicester Symposium to discuss near to long term opportunities and possibilities for space based research in the above areas.

This symposium will be residually based at University of Leicester and will include: Symposium Lecture; Keynote Talks; Summary Talks; Poster Sessions; Discussion Sessions

• What are the next steps in future decades?
• What is the science to be done?
• What are the synergies between areas?
• Role of Academia in Space Sector

Target Audience: Academia, Industry, Space Agencies and Organisations

Please reserve the dates in your diary. View the agenda and book a place via www.leos.le.ac.uk/50years