If you would like to install RefGrab-It for Google Chrome, please log into your RefWorks account and navigate to Tools > RefGrab-It. Press and hold, the left click mouse button on the RefGrab-It link and drag it to your bookmark toolbar in Chrome. A semi-transparent box will appear on your screen as you move the RefGrab-It bookmarklet to the bookmark toolbar.
After the RefGrab-It bookmarklet has been added to the bookmark toolbar, click the bookmarklet on the bookmark toolbar to confirm that the plugin has been added successfully. The RefGrab-It tool should display information similar to the image provided below.

Next, check to see if the RefGrab-It bookmarklet is synched to your RefWorks account by navigating to http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/. Enter a search term of your choice and click the Search button. Finally, click on the RefGrab-It bookmarklet and verify that the search results on the PubMed page are visible in the RefGrab-It window.