Summary

During May 2014 the University received extensive media coverage across all channels for Richard III:

- High Court decision regarding the reinterment of his remains (Telegraph, BBC Radio 4, Sky News)
- Academic paper published in the Lancet detailing the extent of his scoliosis including a 3D visualisation of his spine (Guardian, Telegraph, Daily Mail)

News of the Students’ Union’s novel approach to relieving exam stress involving puppies and bubble wrap appeared in all the national newspapers including the Independent, Times and the Huffington Post

Dr John Bond’s technique of lifting fingerprints from ATM receipts (BBC) received good coverage as did Dr Jonathan Nichols’s observations of auroral displays on Saturn (Daily Mail).

Professor Sir Robert Burgess, Vice-Chancellor had a notable appearance in the Independent
Richard III media coverage

Volume
154

AVE
Advertising Value Equivalent
160,094

OTS
Opportunities To See
9,491,428

Volume by media type and date

Web
Tv&Radio
Press