7. Programme aims:

The programme aims to

- enable students to explore their interest in, and aptitudes for, a range of themes, approaches and periods in both History and Politics;
- encourage powers of independent thought and critical analysis;
- develop skills in the accessing of information and the understanding and use of a wide range of primary and secondary sources;
- develop the ability to marshal cogent and relevant arguments, and present these with clarity in both oral and written form;
- organise written work effectively, and be able to produce this to professional standards of accuracy, literacy, and bibliographic reference;

- foster self-organisation, individual responsibility and the development of independent learning skills;
- enable a spectrum of students to achieve their full potential;
- develop transferable skills of reasoning, evaluation and communication which will equip graduates for a wide range of career opportunities;
- equip graduates with skills of research and analysis as a foundation for further study at postgraduate level in History, Politics and cognate disciplines.

In addition to the aims of the programme outlined for the 3 year degree in History, the 4 year degree also aims to:

- broaden students' learning experience in an international context;
- provide students with the opportunity to develop their language skills by studying for a year in a European country – this does not apply to those students opting to study in Australia or North America;
- widen students' cultural experience by living and studying abroad;
- develop students' transferable skills in order to enhance their employability.
- Intended learning outcomes for the year will be those of the modules they take at the Higher Education Institution they attend during their year abroad.

For HS coded modules, certain modules include qualifying elements which students have to pass in order to obtain credits for the module. Please refer to individual module specification forms for further information.

In cases where a student has failed to meet a requirement to progress he or she will be required to withdraw from the course

11. Scheme of Assessment

This programme follows the standard scheme of award and classification set out in Senate Regulation 5.

12. Special features:

Students' learning experience is enhanced by the close links between the research and teaching activities of members of staff in the School of History, Politics and International Relations. The School includes one of the largest groups of historians in the UK. History was rated excellent for teaching by TQA and 85% of its output was judged at 4* and 3* standard in Ref 2014 (the highest proportion in the UK). Students' learning experience is enhanced by the School's strong commitment to developing synergy between its research and teaching activities.

13. Indications of programme quality

In profiles of degree class results, a consistently high proportion of students graduate with 1st class and 2.1 results. External Examiners' reports have consistently commended the quality of the degrees and of student attainment.

14. External Examiner(s) reports

The details of the External Examiner(s) for this programme and the most recent External Examiners' reports for this programme can be found here.

INTERNATIONAL NETWORK OF UNIVERSITY EXCHANGE

Joint degree students may study abroad at one of the following partner institutions for one semester, taking modules equivalent to those the students would have taken at Leicester, ensuring appropriate academic progression. The following are the approved partner institutions: Flinders University, Australia, La Trobe University, Australia and James Madison University, Virginia, USA. Students should contact the School of History, Politics and International Relations for further information.

BA HISTORY AND POLITICS WITH A YEAR ABROAD

The above four-year degree is also available. Students may only enter the four-year variant of the relevant three-year programme by transferring at the end of the first-year and on the recommendation of the heads of the divisions concerned. Transfer is conditional on successful completion of first-year modules. The programme structure is as for first, second and final year modules for the three-year programme (above). The third year is spent abroad at an approved partner institution. In order to proceed to the fourth year of the course students must pass their year abroad. The year abroad does not otherwise count towards the final classification of the degree.

The programme is assessed as a Four Year Programme with a year out, with the year abroad treated as the 'year out'. The year out does not count towards the final classification, but a student must pass all modules taken during the year abroad to proceed to the final year of the programme. The second and fourth years are used in determining the degree class, according to the standard scheme for three-year programmes.

To take part in the History Erasmus programme students must pass all modules in years 1 and 2, and achieve a minimum average mark of 60 in year 2. They must also have learned the language of the destination country, providing the Office with a language certificate as evidence of satisfactory completion of training through the 'Languages at Leicester scheme' or an appropriate alternative. Failure to meet these criteria will lead to the School recommending transfer to the 3- year degree which the student would otherwise have taken.
