
Senate Regulation 5: Regulations governing undergraduate programmes of study

- 5.1. Variation from this scheme will normally only be permitted where there is a requirement from a professional or statutory legal body, and must be approved by the Learning and Teaching Committee. Any such variations shall be specified in the programme specification.

Programmes of Study

- 5.2. The honours degrees awarded by the University are:
Master of Biology (M.Biol), Master of Chemistry (M.Chem), Master of Computing (M.Comp), Master of Engineering (M.Eng), Master of Geology (M.Geol), Master of Mathematics (M.Math), Master of Physics (M.Phys), Master in Science (M.Sci), Bachelor of Arts (B.A.), Bachelor of Engineering (B.Eng), Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.), Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery (M.B.,Ch.B.), Bachelor of Medical Science (B.Med.Sci.), Bachelor of Science (B.Sc.)
- 5.3. A first degree may be awarded with honours, as a pass degree, without honours (in the case of the M.B.,Ch.B. degree), as an Ordinary degree (in the case of the B.Med.Sci. degree), or as a Foundation Degree.

Composition of Degree Programmes

- 5.4. For all full-time undergraduate programmes of study except the degrees of M.B.,Ch.B., students are required to register each year for modules totalling 120 credits. This is deemed to be the equivalent of 900 hours of study, including private study time. Programme specifications specify those modules which are core and optional for each level of each programme of study. A similar modular structure applies to Phase I of the M.B.,Ch.B programmes of study and is described in the Programme Handbook for those degrees.
- 5.5. Modules may be examined by written examination, continuous assessment, the completion of a project or dissertation, or through a combination of assessment methods. Details are provided in module specifications which can be accessed via the module database and in school literature.

Consideration of Results for Non-Finalists at the First Attempt

- 5.6. Students are credited with a module when they have completed the requirements of that module. These requirements include the submission, by the due date, of written assignments, the completion of any field work activities, or of any study abroad requirements and the attainment of a pass mark in the assessment associated with the module.
- 5.7. Subject to the achievement of an overall average of 40 per cent, modules may be passed at a level sufficient for the award of credit (35 to 39 per cent) or at honours level (40% or above). Exceptionally, for the purposes of satisfying the demands of professional bodies, or for some other significant academic reason specifically approved by the Quality and Standards Sub-Committee, some modules may be designated as having to be passed at Honours Level (40 per cent or above).
- 5.8. Students who have not satisfied the module requirements set out above will have their performance reviewed by the relevant Board of Examiners in the light of the results obtained at the end of each level of the programme. Boards of Examiners will apply the following rules relating to the determination of pass or fail in individual modules.
- (a) Students with a credit-weighted average of less than 40 per cent overall across the level will be deemed to have failed all modules in which a mark of less than 40 per cent has been obtained;
 - (b) Students with a credit-weighted average of 40 per cent or more overall across the level will be deemed to have failed all modules in which a mark of less than 35 percent has been obtained unless the University has determined that a specific module must be passed at 40 percent (see above), in which case in that module a mark of 39 per cent or less will be deemed to be a fail mark.

- 5.9. In order to be credited with the modules applying to any one level and therefore to be able to progress to the next level of a programme, a student must:
- (a) have satisfied the relevant requirements for each module as set out above
- and
- (b) have achieved a credit-weighted average mark of 40 per cent or more across all the modules taken in the level
- and
- (c) have achieved a pass mark in each module complying with the designations of pass/fail set out in 5.8 above.
- 5.10. Students who are declared at the end of the level to have failed any modules taken during the level may be allowed to present themselves for re-assessment in any written assessments associated with those failed modules. Students who have failed or have not completed any elements of assessed course work may be provided with the opportunity of (re) submitting the work by a date specified by their school. In certain modules there may be provision for alternative methods of re-assessment. Laboratory work, however, must normally be completed within the time allotted for it in the relevant semester. In most laboratory-based subjects, the opportunity for repeating practical work cannot be provided, and any failure in practical elements of the course may lead to termination of course.
- 5.11. The maximum mark which can be obtained in an assessment component deemed to be a resit or resubmission is 40% overall.
- 5.12. Students with a module mark in the range 35 – 39 who nevertheless meet the criteria for passing the level as set out in 5.7 and 5.8 above will not be permitted to retake the assessments for the module in an attempt to improve their performance.
- 5.13. Where a 4 year programme is approved with a threshold mark, this should be specified in the programme specification. A student who does not achieve the threshold level will normally be required to transfer to the equivalent three-year degree. If at the end of the third year a student does not meet the threshold requirement for progression to the final year, they will be considered as a finalist for the three-year degree.

Treatment of First Year students with failed modules, following re-assessment opportunity

- 5.14. Students who have not passed all their assessments, following the application of the criteria set out in 5.7 and 5.8 above, will be considered by the relevant Board of Examiners. In the light of their overall performance, the Board will determine an outcome for such students by applying the options below in descending order:
- (a) The normal expectation is that a student who, without mitigating circumstances, achieves a mark below a pass for credit in more than 40 credits at resit will have their course terminated;
 - (b) Where a student has passed at least 100 credits, and has not failed any pre-requisite modules they will be permitted to proceed to year 2 and carry the failed credit. Students will not be required to re-sit the failed assessments.
 - (c) Where a student has passed at least 90 credits they will be permitted to proceed to year 2 of the course and re-sit the assessments for the failed modules alongside the standard 120 credits for the year if they meet the following criteria: students should have failed no more than 30 credits, have fail marks no lower than 15% and have a credit weighted average for the year of at least 40%. This option is not available where the modules failed are designated as pre-requisite;
 - (d) Where a student has passed at least 90 credits and has failed to achieve a pass mark in optional modules only, they may be permitted to proceed to year 2 of the course taking, in addition to the standard 120 credits for the year, new modules in place of those failed. In order to be permitted to proceed and substitute modules, students will have failed no more than 30 credits of optional modules and have gained a credit weighted average mark for the year of at least 40%. This option is not available where the modules failed are designated as pre-requisite;

- (e) Where a student has passed at least 80 credits but has failed up to 40 credits of pre-requisite modules, they may be permitted to have one final attempt to resit failed assessments before the commencement of the next academic year, where this is available.
- (f) Where a student has passed at least 80 credits but has failed modules up to a maximum of 40 credits, and does not meet the criteria set out under (b), (c) or (d) above they will be permitted to repeat the first year as if for the first time. A student who is repeating a period of study will not carry credit or marks over from the period and level repeated. Credits and assessments will be taken as if for the first time. Students on the MBChB programme who are awarded a repeat year will only receive one attempt at the relevant assessments and will not be eligible for a further re-sit.
- (g) With the approval of the Academic Registrar, where a student would be eligible for a repeat year under (f) but is unable to undertake this option, they may be permitted to undertake the assessments associated with the modules failed one further time, and have their studies suspended in the meantime (Re-sit without Residence)

5.15. Normally only two attempts at a module will be permitted, a first sit and one resit, except in cases where (c), (d), (e) or (g) above apply:

- The award of a further attempt under (c) above is automatic where a student meets the eligibility criteria.
- The award of a repeat year under (f) is automatic where a student meets the eligibility criteria.
- The award of further attempts under criteria (d) and (e) is at the discretion of the Board of Examiners.

Under (c), (d), (e) and (g) three attempts at a module is the maximum that a student will be permitted. In such cases if a student fails to pass a module after three attempts their progression will be considered in line with these Regulations.

Treatment of non-First Year students with failed modules, following re-assessment opportunity

5.16. Students who have not passed all their assessments, following the application of the criteria set out in 5.7 and 5.8 above, will be considered by the relevant Board of Examiners. In the light of their overall performance, the Board may determine an outcome for such students by applying the options below in descending order:

- (a) The normal expectation is that a student who, without mitigating circumstances, achieves a mark below a pass for credit in more than 40 credits at resit will have their course terminated;
- (b) A student may be permitted to proceed to the next year of the course taking, in addition to the standard 120 credits for the year, new modules in place of those failed. In order to be permitted to proceed and substitute modules, students will normally have failed no more than 30 credits (i.e. with marks below 35%) and have gained a credit weighted average mark for the year of at least 40%;
- (c) Where modules are involved which cannot be substituted a student may be permitted to proceed to the next year of the course repeating the assessments for the failed modules alongside the standard 120 credits for the year. In order to be permitted to proceed and resit modules, students should normally have failed no more than 30 credits, have failed marks no lower than 30% and have a credit weighted average for the year of at least 40%;

- (d) A student may be permitted to have one final attempt to resit failed modules. Such students will have their studies suspended in the meantime;
 - (e) A student may be permitted, in exceptional circumstances, to repeat the level as if for the first time (see paragraph 5.18 below).
- 5.17. Normally only two attempts at a module will be permitted, a first sit and one resit, except in cases where (b), (c) or (d) above apply. The award of further attempts under these criteria is at the discretion of the Board of Examiners. In such cases three attempts at a module is the maximum that a student will be permitted.

Granting of Repeat Periods of Study on the basis of mitigating circumstances

- 5.18. In reaching decisions on students who have failed assessments, Boards of Examiners will comply with the definition of mitigating circumstances laid out in Senate Regulation 7.96, and will take account of medical evidence or other special circumstances. Repeat periods of study will be granted only where evidence exists which demonstrates that such special circumstances have significantly interrupted, through no fault of the student's own, the opportunity to benefit from the teaching programme in a particular year. The scale of the interruption must be such that it would be unreasonable to expect a student to take the assessment relating to that part of the programme without repeat attendance.

Progression into the Final year with outstanding modules

- 5.19. Students who have failed up to 20 credits at level 1 and have exhausted all reassessment opportunities for those credits may proceed to their final year of study providing they have passed at least 100 credits at level 2 with a mark of 40% or higher, following any reassessment opportunities as required.
- 5.20. Students at the end of their penultimate level of study who have failed modules which contribute towards the classification of their award, and who have exhausted their re-sit opportunities for these modules, may proceed to the final year of the programme carrying a maximum of 30 credits of failed modules. The Board of Examiners may prevent a student from progressing while carrying failed modules, if those modules are deemed as being essential pre-requisites for final level study. In such cases the student's programme of study shall be terminated.

Final Assessment for undergraduate programmes of study (excluding M.B.Ch.B)

- 5.21. The Board of Examiners will consider the marks of each final level student in accordance with the scheme of assessment (below).
- 5.22. Students who fail to satisfy the examiners in the Final Examinations may be allowed to present themselves for re-examination on one subsequent occasion only, and they will be considered for the award of a classified degree. The relevant Board of Examiners will recommend whether such students are required to re-sit all final modules or only those failed. Where a student has failed final modules however has still met the criteria for the award of a degree as set out below, an opportunity to re-sit or re-sit those failed assessments shall normally only be offered where successful re-assessment could potentially result in the student becoming eligible for a higher classification.
- 5.23. Any students may, at the discretion of the examiners, be required to attend an oral examination.

Where additional general regulations apply (e.g. LL.B. degree, the degrees of M.B.Ch.B.) these will be detailed in the relevant programme specification.

Programme Regulations for each programme of study can be found in the relevant programme specification, accessible via the following web page: <http://www.le.ac.uk/sas/courses/documentation>

Major Minor Honours Degree

- 5.24. In addition to the progression and award requirements outlined in Regulations 5.6 to 5.23 above, students undertaking a Major Minor Honours Degree must achieve a minimum mark of 40% (honours level) in at least one module of their minor subject at each level of their degree programme. A minimum of 45 credits of the minor subject must be passed at honours level across the degree programme as a whole with at least 30 of those credits from levels 2 and 3 which will contribute to the degree classification.

Aegrotat Awards

- 5.25. An aegrotat award may be considered in certain circumstances where a student is prevented through illness or other sufficient cause from completing the final assessment for the award. Exemption may not be granted from completing the dissertation or research project.

Classification of Awards

- 5.26. The following descriptors relate to a student's performance across all the modules which contribute to the final degree classification. An undergraduate programme of study may be awarded first, upper second, lower second or third class honours, or without honours (Pass) using the following descriptors:

First Class Honours	Overall has achieved the specified learning outcomes to an excellent or very high standard; has demonstrated a very high level of command of the subject matter and of technical and analytical skills; has demonstrated a high level of achievement in the development of intellectual and personal skills.
Upper Second Class Honours	Overall has achieved the specified learning outcomes to a good standard; has demonstrated a high level of command of the subject matter and of technical and analytical skills; has demonstrated a good level of achievement in the development of intellectual and personal skills.
Lower Second Class Honours	Overall has achieved the specified learning outcomes to a competent standard; has demonstrated a moderate level of command of the subject matter and of technical and analytical skills; has demonstrated a satisfactory level of achievement in the development of intellectual and personal skills.
Third Class Honours	Overall has achieved the specified learning outcomes to the minimum acceptable honours level; has demonstrated an adequate level of command of the subject matter and of technical and analytical skills; has demonstrated a satisfactory level of achievement in the development of intellectual and personal skills.
Pass	Overall has achieved the specified learning outcomes to the minimum acceptable level; has demonstrated a limited level of command of the subject matter and of technical and analytical skills; has demonstrated some achievement in the development of intellectual and personal skills.

- 5.27. There are two approved variations of the mechanism to classify honours degrees: the version given here applies to all new students and students who entered their second year in, or after the 2010/11 academic year.
- 5.28. The previous version which applies to students who entered their second year before the 2010/11 academic year; is available on the Student and Academic Services website:

Calculating the credit weighted average

- 5.29. For three year programmes the weighted average is to be calculated on the basis of all level 2 and level 3 marks only. In order to calculate the weighted average, the scheme fixes the relative weighting of the third-year and second-year marks in all three-year programmes at 60:40. An exception to this is the School of Biological Sciences where for all new students and students who entered their second year in 2010/11 the relative weighting will be 70:30. The second year and third year averages are calculated first, and then combined with a weighting of 60:40 in favour of the final year average. If the modules in a year have different credit values (e.g. some 10 and some 20) then they are weighted by their credit value in calculating the year average. If all modules in a year have the same credit value then the average for the year is a simple average.
- 5.30. For the purposes of identifying students' best performances on a module-by-module basis in order to meet the 120 credit threshold for a particular class, all second and third year modules are equal (only differentiated by their credit value where applicable). Differential weighting is only for the purposes of calculating the average mark between the two years.
- 5.31. For integrated four year programmes the same general principles apply to the calculation of the weighted average as for three-year programmes, but the second, third and fourth years are included, with a relative weighing of 20:30:50. For the purposes of identifying students' best performance on a module-by-module basis, all second, third and fourth year modules are equal, but the credit threshold for a particular class is 180 rather than 120 credits.
- 5.32. In the case of four-year programmes in which the year out does not count towards the final classification, the second and fourth years are used in determining the degree class, according to the standard scheme for three-year programmes.
- 5.33. The following rules shall be applied in descending order, starting at the Pass/Fail threshold, so that fail students are excluded from further consideration.

Rule 1	Pass/Fail threshold for the programme
	(i)	Students who fail at less than 35% modules to the value of 45 credits or less may be considered for the award of a degree under the rules below, unless the school has specifically required a pass in a given module, in which case the student will fail the programme.

Rule 2	First Class Honours

		Weighted average mark greater than or equal to 35%

Borderline Candidates

- 5.34. Students who fall into a borderline, as defined below, and those just below the borderline with special/mitigating circumstances will be considered by the Board of Examiners. Viva voce examinations may still be permitted where there is a genuine need to substantiate the information available to a Board of Examiners.
- 5.35. The consideration of borderline students should be undertaken with a view to arriving at a positive outcome wherever this is commensurate with the application of appropriate academic standards. In reaching a judgement, Boards of Examiners are permitted to take account of whichever of the following are applicable to the discipline or to the circumstances of the student:
- (a) the design of the curriculum and any special features
 - (b) the year in which the results were achieved
 - (c) the profile of marks, and in particular any distorting elements
 - (d) performance in substantial pieces of work (dissertations, projects)
 - (e) the outcome of vivas, where these are held
 - (f) mitigating circumstances
 - (g) the impact of marks obtained elsewhere (for example, from a year abroad).

5.36. Candidates shall be considered for promotion to the next higher degree class on the following basis:

Rule 1	Pass/Fail threshold for the programme
	Students may be considered for an award if they meet the following criteria: (i) A credit weighted average of 40% from all modules AND (ii) A mark of 35% or higher in all modules

A Diploma of Higher Education may be awarded to students registered on a Dip HE programme and as an intermediate award to students registered on an undergraduate degree programme. The specific requirements of a Dip HE which is a stand-alone award will be approved by a Programme Approval Panel. Where a Diploma of Higher Education is awarded as an intermediate award a maximum of 30 credits at Level 6 may be substituted for modules at level 5 in which a mark of lower than 40.00% has been achieved, and will be awarded to students who achieve the following:

- 5.44. Certificates of Higher Education shall consist of 120 credits at level 4 of the FHEQ. Certificates of Higher Education awarded are in a named discipline but are unclassified. A certificate of Higher Education may be awarded to students registered on a Cert HE programme and as an intermediate award to students registered on an undergraduate degree programme. The specific requirements of a Cert HE which is a stand-alone award will be approved by a Programme Approval Panel. Where a certificate is awarded as an intermediate award a maximum of 30 credits achieved at level 5 may be substituted for modules at level 4 in which a mark of lower than 40.00% has been achieved, and will be made to students who achieve the following:

A credit weighted average of at least 40.00%
