

INTRODUCING: PALGRAVE HATE STUDIES

EDITED BY: Neil Chakraborti (University of Leicester)
and Barbara Perry (University of Ontario Institute of Technology)

This series builds on recent developments in the broad and interdisciplinary field of hate studies. Palgrave Hate Studies aims to bring together in one series the very best scholars who are conducting hate studies research around the world. Reflecting the range and depth of research and scholarship in this burgeoning area, the series welcomes contributions from established hate studies researchers who have helped to shape the field, as well as new scholars who are building on this tradition and breaking new ground within and outside the existing canon of hate studies research.

We welcome proposals for monographs, edited collections and Palgrave Pivots on a range of topics, including:

- Community responses to hate
- Cyber hate
- Extreme and 'everyday' forms of hate
- Hate crime policy and legislation
- Hate offenders
- International perspectives on hate
- Media and political discourses around hate
- Organised hate groups
- Researching hate
- The impact of hate upon individuals, families and wider communities
- The policing and punishment of hate, including alternative forms of intervention
- Victims of hate

Islamophobia, Victimization and the Veil
by Irene Zempi & Neil Chakraborti
9781137356147 | July 14 | £45.00

This book examines the experiences of veiled Muslim women as victims of Islamophobia, and the impact of this victimisation upon women, their families and wider Muslim communities. It proposes a more effective approach to engaging with these victims; one which recognises their multiple vulnerabilities and their cultural and religious needs.

Administering Victimization
by Marian Duggan & Vicky Heap
9781137409263 | June 14 | £45.00

This study addresses the management of victims and victim policy under the Coalition government, in light of an increasing move towards neoliberal and punitive law and order agendas. With a focus on victims of anti-social behaviour and hate crime, Duggan and Heap explore the changing role of the victim in contemporary criminal justice discourses.
