REPORT & SUPPORT

We want all students at the University of Leicester to experience an environment that is stimulating, enjoyable and safe. However, during your time with us, you may witness or experience something that concerns or distresses you.

All students can report and get support from an advisor, or use the support pages to seek information and help for themselves.

If you need immediate support please contact the emergency services by dialing 999, or the University Security Service on 0116 252 2888.

Report an incident to the University by clicking the button below
We want all students at the University of Leicester to experience an environment that is stimulating, enjoyable and safe. However, during your time with us, you may witness or experience something that concerns or distresses you and you might want the University to know about it.

You should not have to accept any behaviour that you’re not comfortable with. You can let us know about something that has happened/is happening to you or to someone else.

There are 10 short, multiple choice questions on this reporting system.

You are able to let us know about the incident(s) in one of 2 ways, either anonymously or by leaving your contact details. You will be asked for your choice at the end of the process.

If you choose to report anonymously we will not be able to offer direct advice or begin any formal processes. If you let us know about something and leave your email address, we will put you in touch with someone from the Student Support Team who will be in touch about the support available to you.

By submitting the information in this form, you are agreeing to the use of your data, as outlined in the privacy policy.

You can leave the form at any point. You can ask any questions you have about the form by emailing welfare@le.ac.uk or calling 0116 223 1185 Monday-Friday 9am-5pm.

The information from your responses in this system will be received by a member of Student Support staff. If you have left your email address, they will endeavour to get back to you within 2 working days. The information you provide in this system won’t be shared with any other staff or students unless there is a safeguarding concern.

Immediate Support

If you need immediate help, please contact the Police by calling 999. If you are on campus, or in a University building, and would like support, please contact our Security Service on 0116 252 2888 who are available all day, every day.

For more information about other reporting and support options, please visit the help pages on our website.
